FOREWORD

The year book that is big enough to present a true and complete picture of Hargrave Military Academy will probably never be printed. It would be impossible to convey in one publication the complete story of a cadet.

Hargrave Military Academy has been molding men for fifty nine years and has been a cogent force in the lives of many men. Her sons will always remember the time when they were in the corps and the many experiences which they shared with others here. She has prepared her graduates to take their place in the community, the church, the state, and the nation. Although each cadet here is different from each other in some respects, they all have shared in a common experience—they have all lived the Hargrave way of life, the Hargrave tradition. Thus, with this thought in mind, we the editors of the 1968 CADENCE attempt to present the account of the 59th session of Hargrave Military Academy.

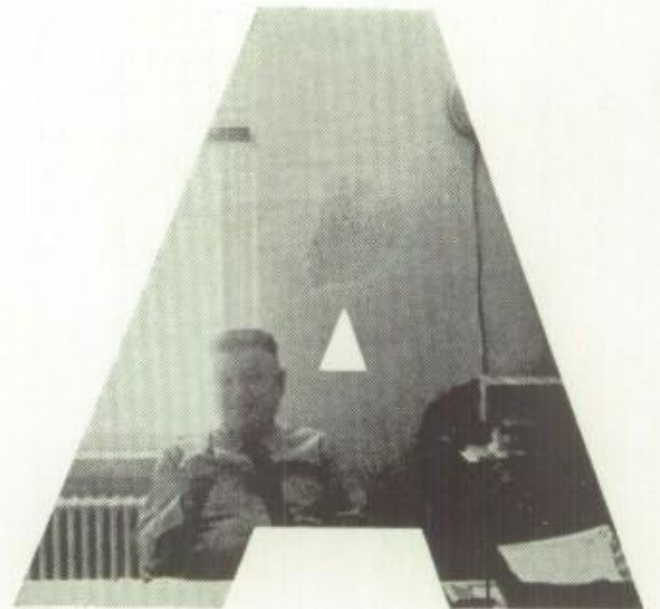

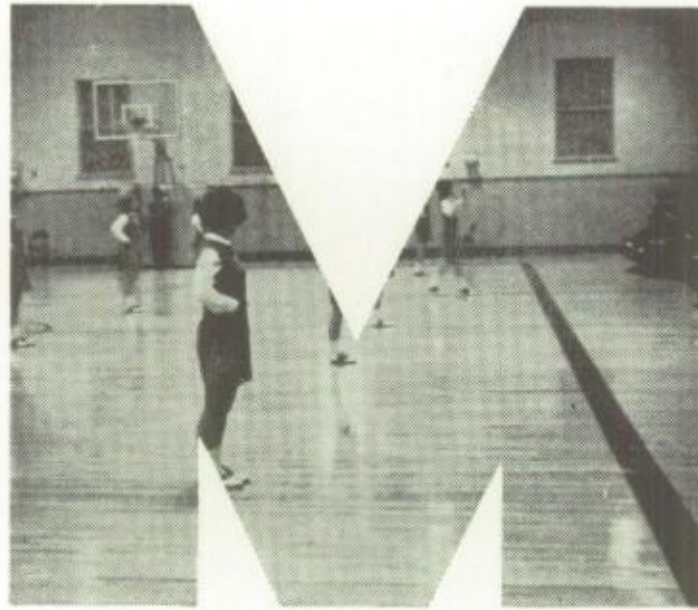

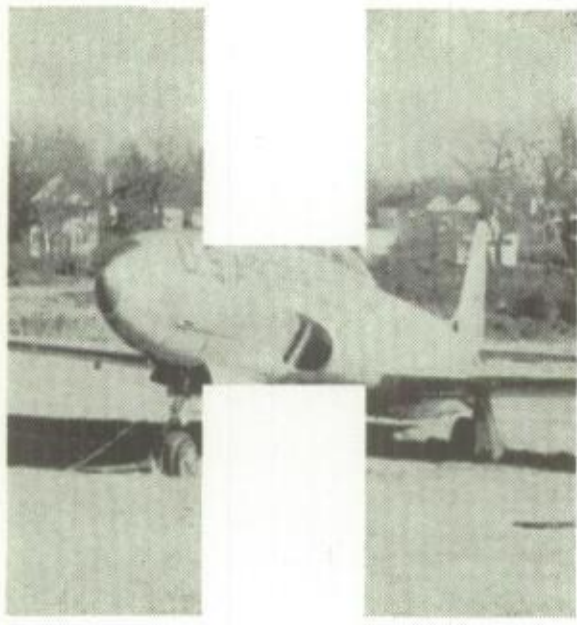

ROWE N. ECKARD, JR.
Managing Editor of the 1968 CADENCE

H. M. A. '67 - 68

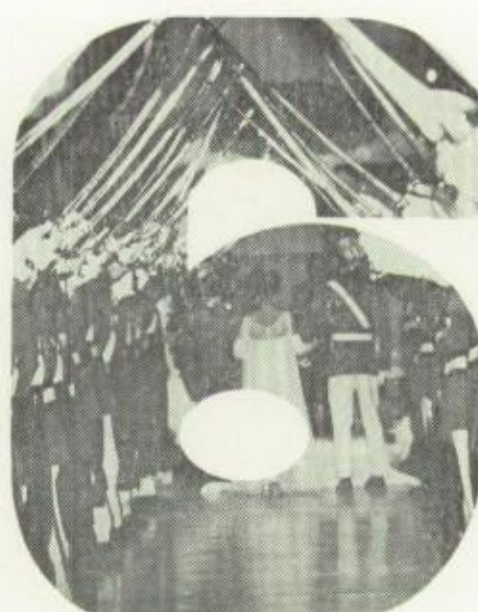

The school year of 1967-68 seemed to begin with such a rush that nobody knew what was happening. The O.C.S. cadets arrived and they were soon followed by the new boys. The old boys arrived to find that for the first time in the history of Hargrave a day student, Tommy Lankford, had been chosen battalion commander. It seemed that hardly a week had passed before Parents' Weekend had arrived. It passed in a flash, though, and it was cryin' time again for the cadet corps. This was soon remedied, however, by Christmas Leave. When we returned, we were greeted at the door by Midterm Exams. The weekend afterwards wasn't nearly as painful, though. After exams, time became different things to different people. For some, their senior year seemed over before it was half-way through. One thing that did lift the morale of the corps was the basketball team taking the V.M.S.L. title. In addition, the rifle team turned in their usual sterling performance. Spring arrived and graduation was upon us. Invitations, trying to remember all your relatives names, and final exams all hit us at the same time. It was a long year, but it was one that most of us will remember with pride in years to come.

THIS IS HARGRAVE

It is more than four walls—a roof; it is a way of life, deep-rooted as an oak; it is longing and fulfillment, sadness and success, joy and disappointment, looking forward and looking back. It goes on for eternity, not in books or charts, or ledgers or maps, but in the still reaches of the hearts that having loved it, and afterward understood it, bears its mark forever. It is an idea, a myth, a plan—a process by which the total person is affected; it is a time to study, plan, think, and conceive—it's drill twice a week, Saturday morning inspection, required vespers; it's the lonely Saturday in your rooms—the hours you spend in self-analysis over why you are a social failure; it's a community in itself—one of genuine friendships, warmth, and depth—one of searching minds striving for cultivation, maturation—an atmosphere where we find our place for service and growth. It has meant much—a distinguished faculty—the long, hard schedule; it is the school spirit—a sense of pride—a sense of belonging—honor; it is more than the splendor of tall, white columns; it is the cadet—a uniform—a sense of devotion—short hair—shined shoes—brass—an empty coffee cup—a spiffy—superballs—a full ash tray—skate - boards—procrastination—abstract discussions after taps—the PX—guidance lectures—intramurals—bull ring—passes—formations—classes—homework—rank; it's an instructor giving of his own time that others may learn—it's the push—the warm afternoons on the front lawn—the Sunday parades—graduation. It's patience—bent backs and hunched shoulders—sore eyes. It is a time to to remember, to collect; it is a lamppost—a flicker of light—of truth. It is the cadet—the individual—the Great Society—the builders of tomorrow—dances—bluebooks and exams—term papers. It is the individual—the unit—the cadet. It is the future teachers, preachers, lawyers, statesmen, country club members, newspaper editors, parents, and leaders of the world—or it's the future civil rights marchers, ban-the-bomb groups, or the radicals; but, whatever we may become, Hargrave will always remain in our hearts as trying to teach us the Christian ways and still us all with a strong character. It's a mixture of personalities—ideas—theories; it is a unique experience—something with which we hold a high regard for—an opportunity—a time we will cherish—a period of budding—a new way of life; it is more than we can express in words, and, it will be even more.

THE FAITH HOME CHRISTMAS PARTY

The annual Faith Home Christmas Party proved to be one of the highlights of the school year. Each year, a week before Christmas leave, The cadet corps sponsors a party for the eighty-five children of the Faith Home. This home, located a few miles outside of Chatham, is the residence for children of parents who are separated or are in the armed forces. This party is the only Christmas these children have.

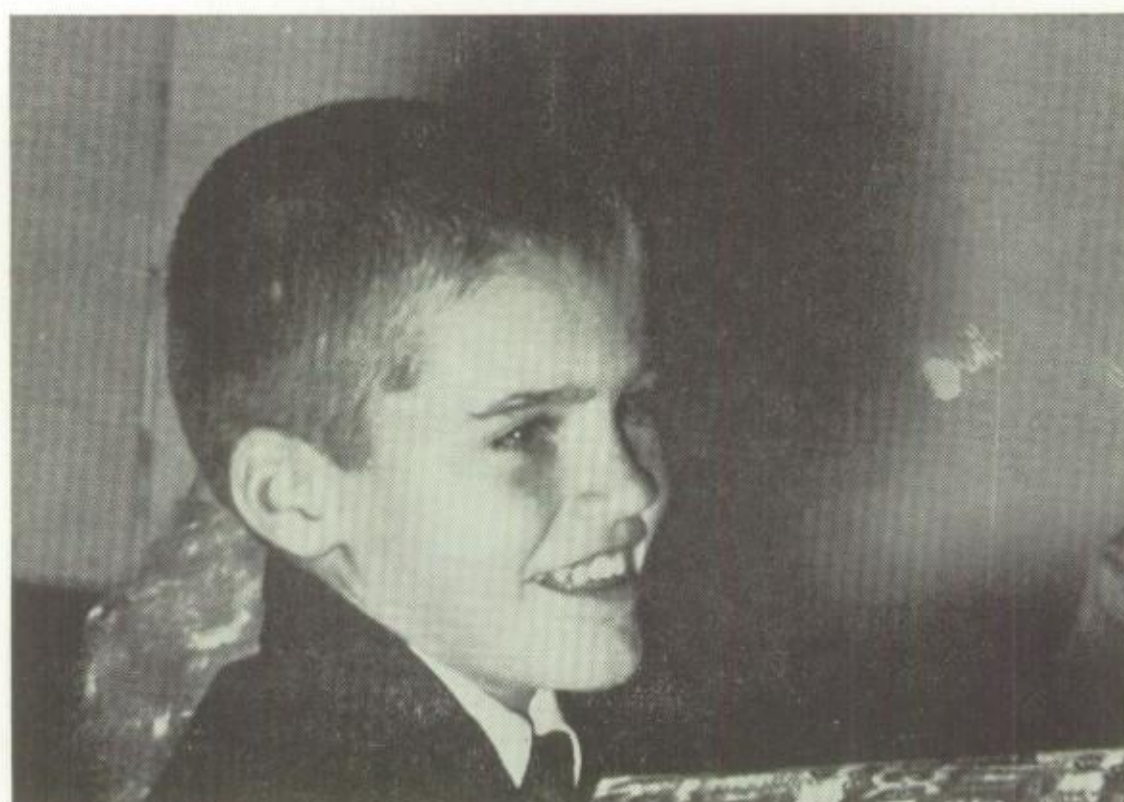

Gifts for the Faith Home Children are bought and given by the cadets themselves. Five to eight cadets combine their funds to buy gifts that suit the child's age. The town leaves before the party fill Chatham with cadets shopping for toys and other gifts.

This year's Christian Activities Council, led by Greg Upchurch, spent many hard hours of work in the planning and supervision of this party. The children's names had to be distributed among the cadets, the tree had to be cut and trimmed, and the presents had to be collected in time for Santa's arrival.

Santa Claus

The party began with the reading of the Christmas Story from the Gospel of Luke and was followed by a Dramatics Club skit, directed by Richard Abernethy. During the uproarious skit, several of Santa's "elves" distributed candy among both the children and cadets alike. At last, the long-awaited moment arrived. Santa, alias Danny Buck, jumped into the room with a "Ho, ho, ho and a Merry Christmas." The eyes of both the children and the cadets shined as the children went up to receive their presents from Santa. The children received the joy of new presents, but even more, the cadets you have to carry it!

received the feeling of giving to someone less fortunate than themselves.

The party proved to be an everlasting memory which will remain with the cadets long after they leave Hargrave.

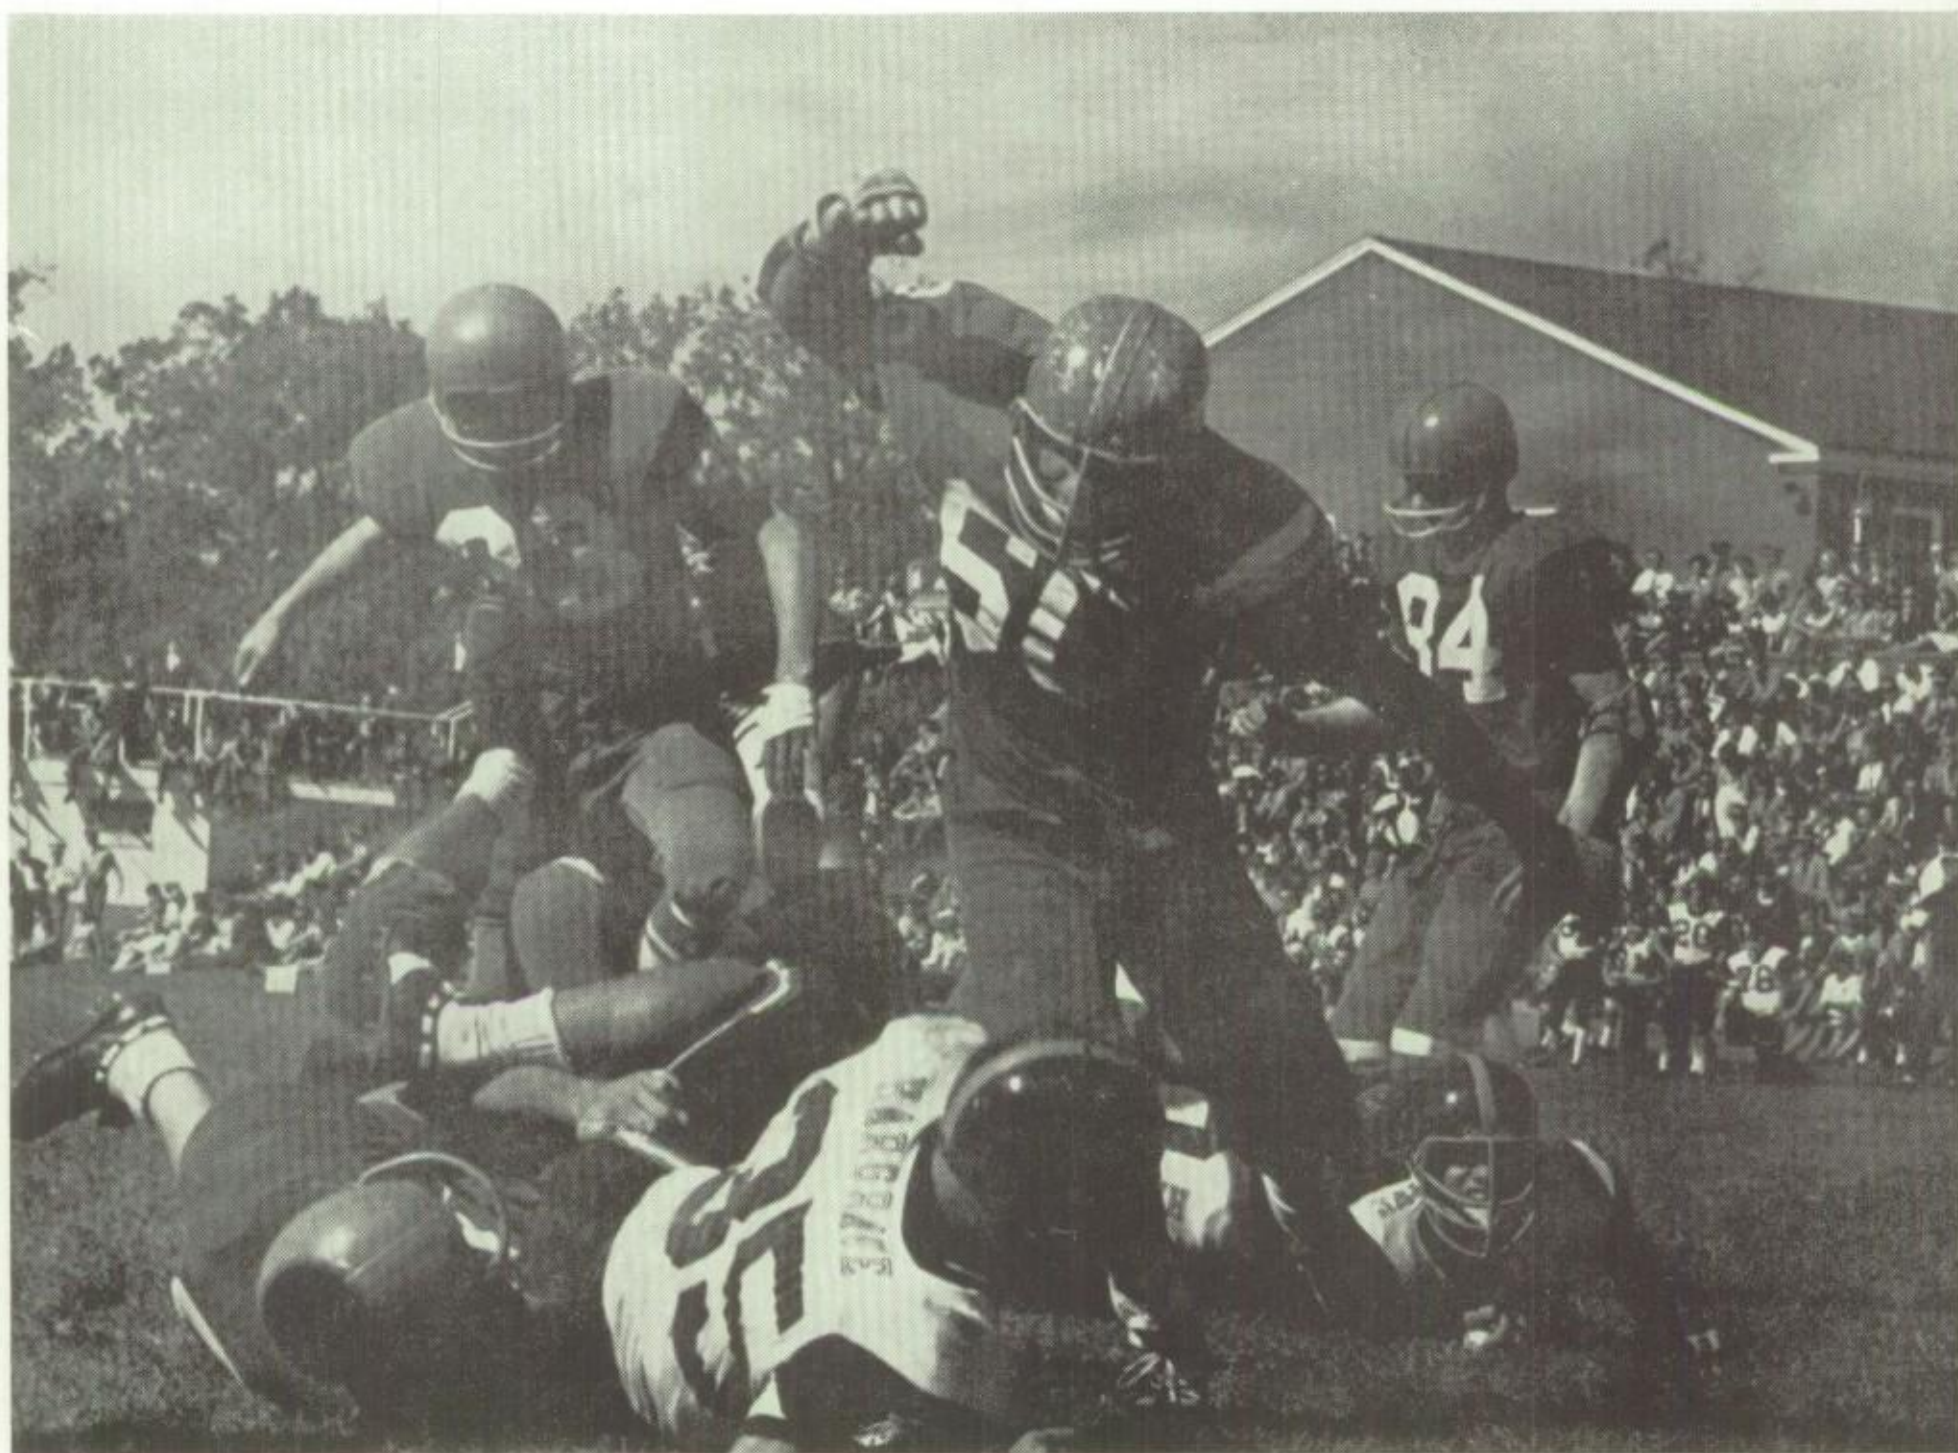

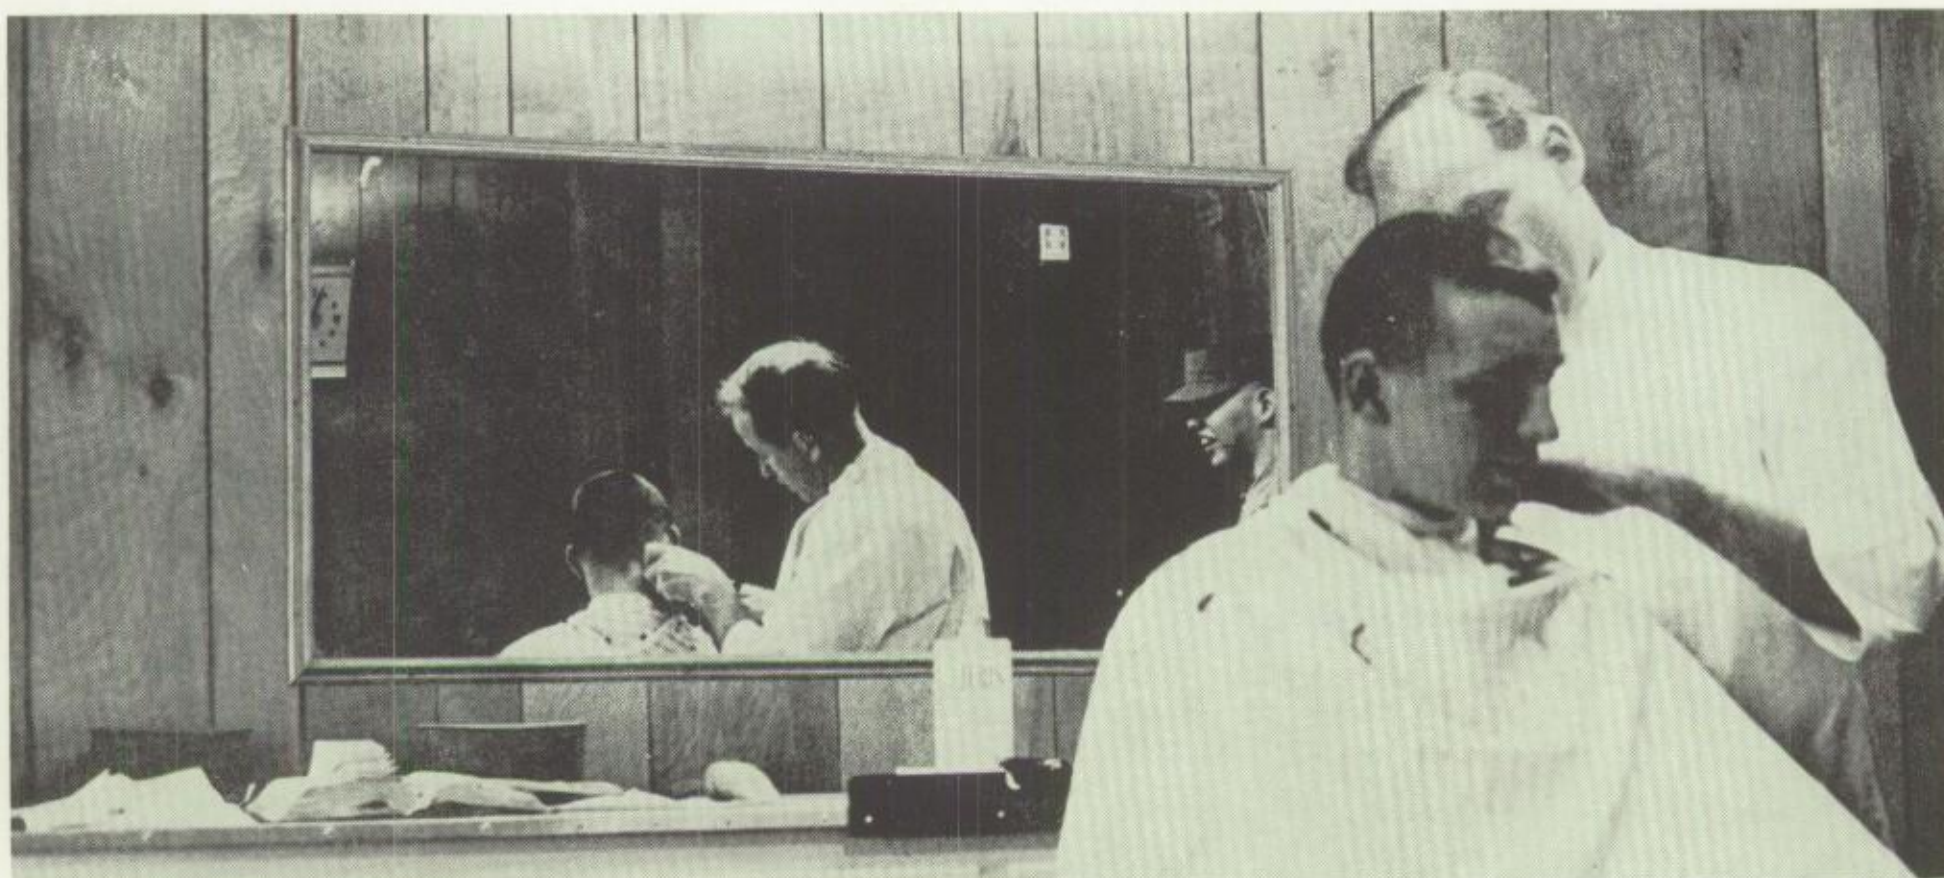

Hey when do I get to play with it!!!!

Somebody get rid of those Reindeer!

Hargrave Military Academy is made up of many things. One of the most important is the extra-curricular activities. Over three-fourths of the students participate in them and without them life at Hargrave would tend to become drab and dismal. They range from Varsity Football to The Musketeer. The football team this year was made up of a group of boys who tried hard and were rewarded by success. This success can be viewed in their most memorable achievement, the victory over Fork Union. The Band and Drill Team also played an important part in the school year. The Band's victory at the Charlotte Carousel Parade was one of the highlights of the school year. The rifle team turned in their usual sterling performance, taking the V.M.S.L. title again. One event that is not officially listed as an extra-curricular activity, but is a competitive event that every cadet takes part in is the weekly Saturday morning inspection. Each cadet attempts to clean his room to perfection, in hope that his barracks will be judged the best. It can be said that Hargrave would not be the same without the activities that the cadet donates his free time to.

THE NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

The year 1968 brought about many new changes at Hargrave. Among these was a much needed athletic field. Although we, the seniors, won't be able to enjoy its benefits, we are glad that the upcoming classes will have the opportunity. The field will serve many purposes. It will be used as another football field and also a place where the cadets can meet for intramurals. In the years to come, we will remember many things, but the one thing that will stand out in our minds is the day they "mowed down the mountain."

INTRAMURALS

Through the passage of time we will remember the days at Hargrave. We will remember the classes and the drill days, but who could ever forget the fun times we had at intramurals. The boys who were not out for sports had a chance to participate in organized athletics. We had a choice of running or running. If we didn't like these choices, we could always run.

Typical Life

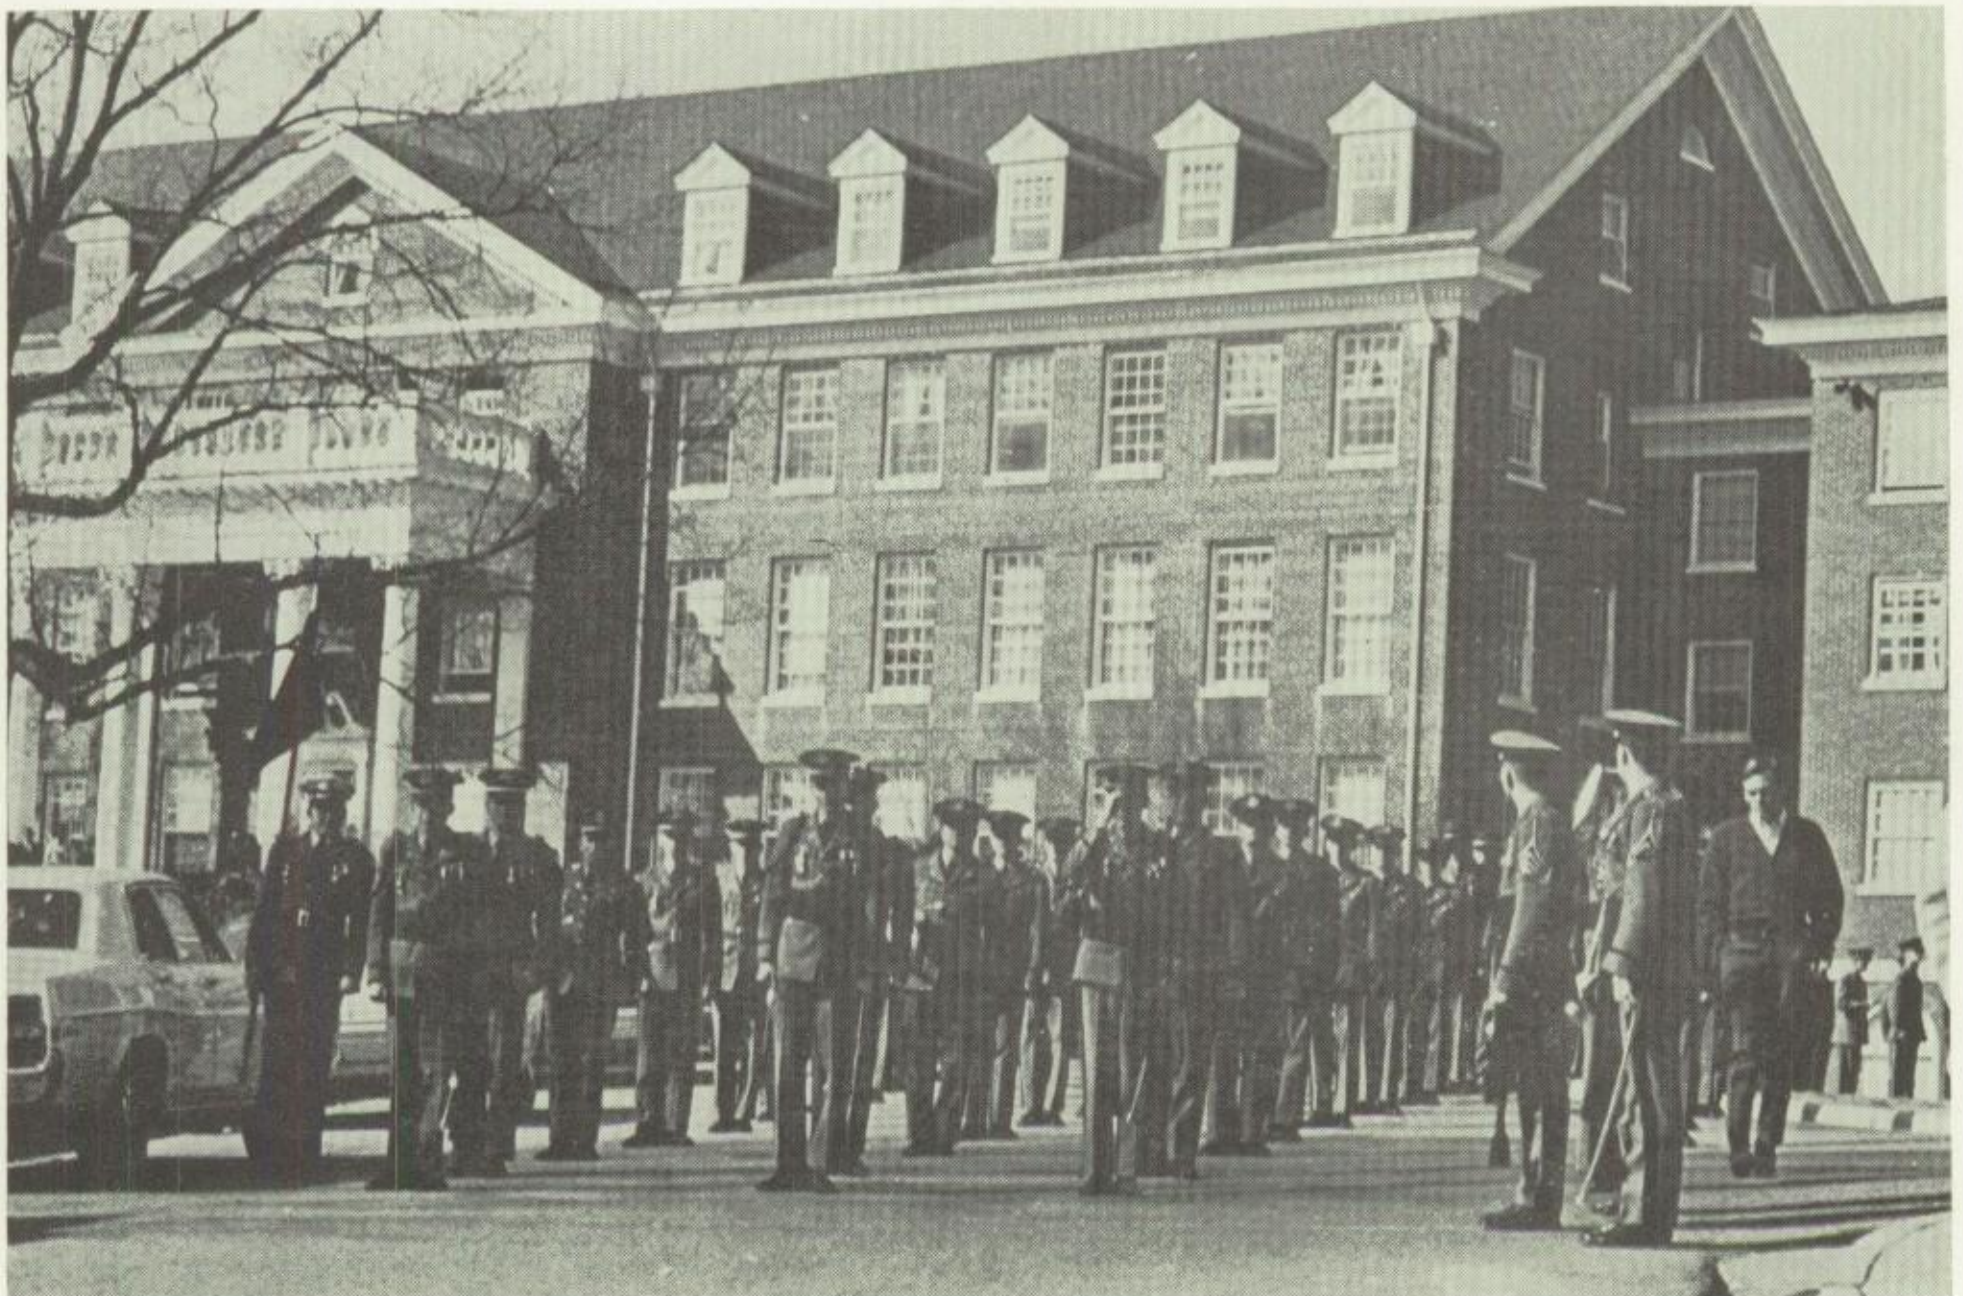

Life at Hargrave is similar to a ball game. If you're good enough in the game you might score a "home run". You might turn out to be the number one man on your team. As in any type of environment, one must adapt himself. It is this way at Hargrave. In order to make the mark every cadet must learn that he must obey the rules set forth by the school. By playing in the game of life here at H.M.A. each cadet grows in wisdom and stature. It is through these characteristics that "Hargrave Men" leave this school as better men.

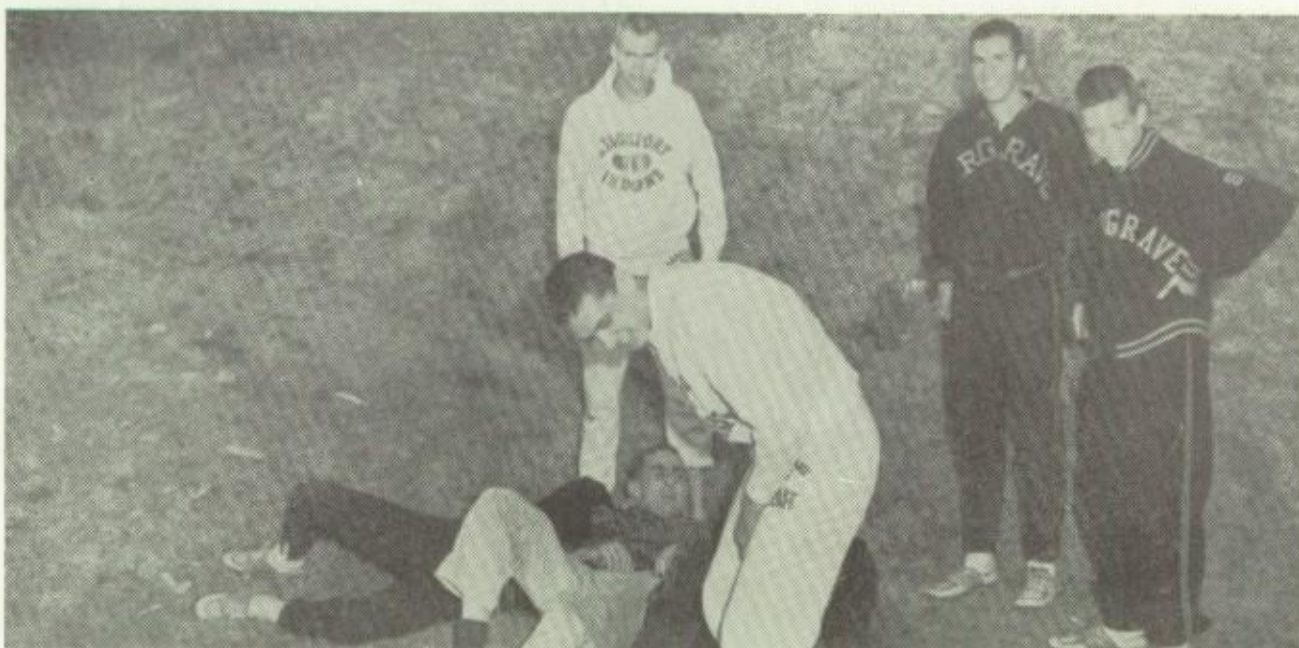

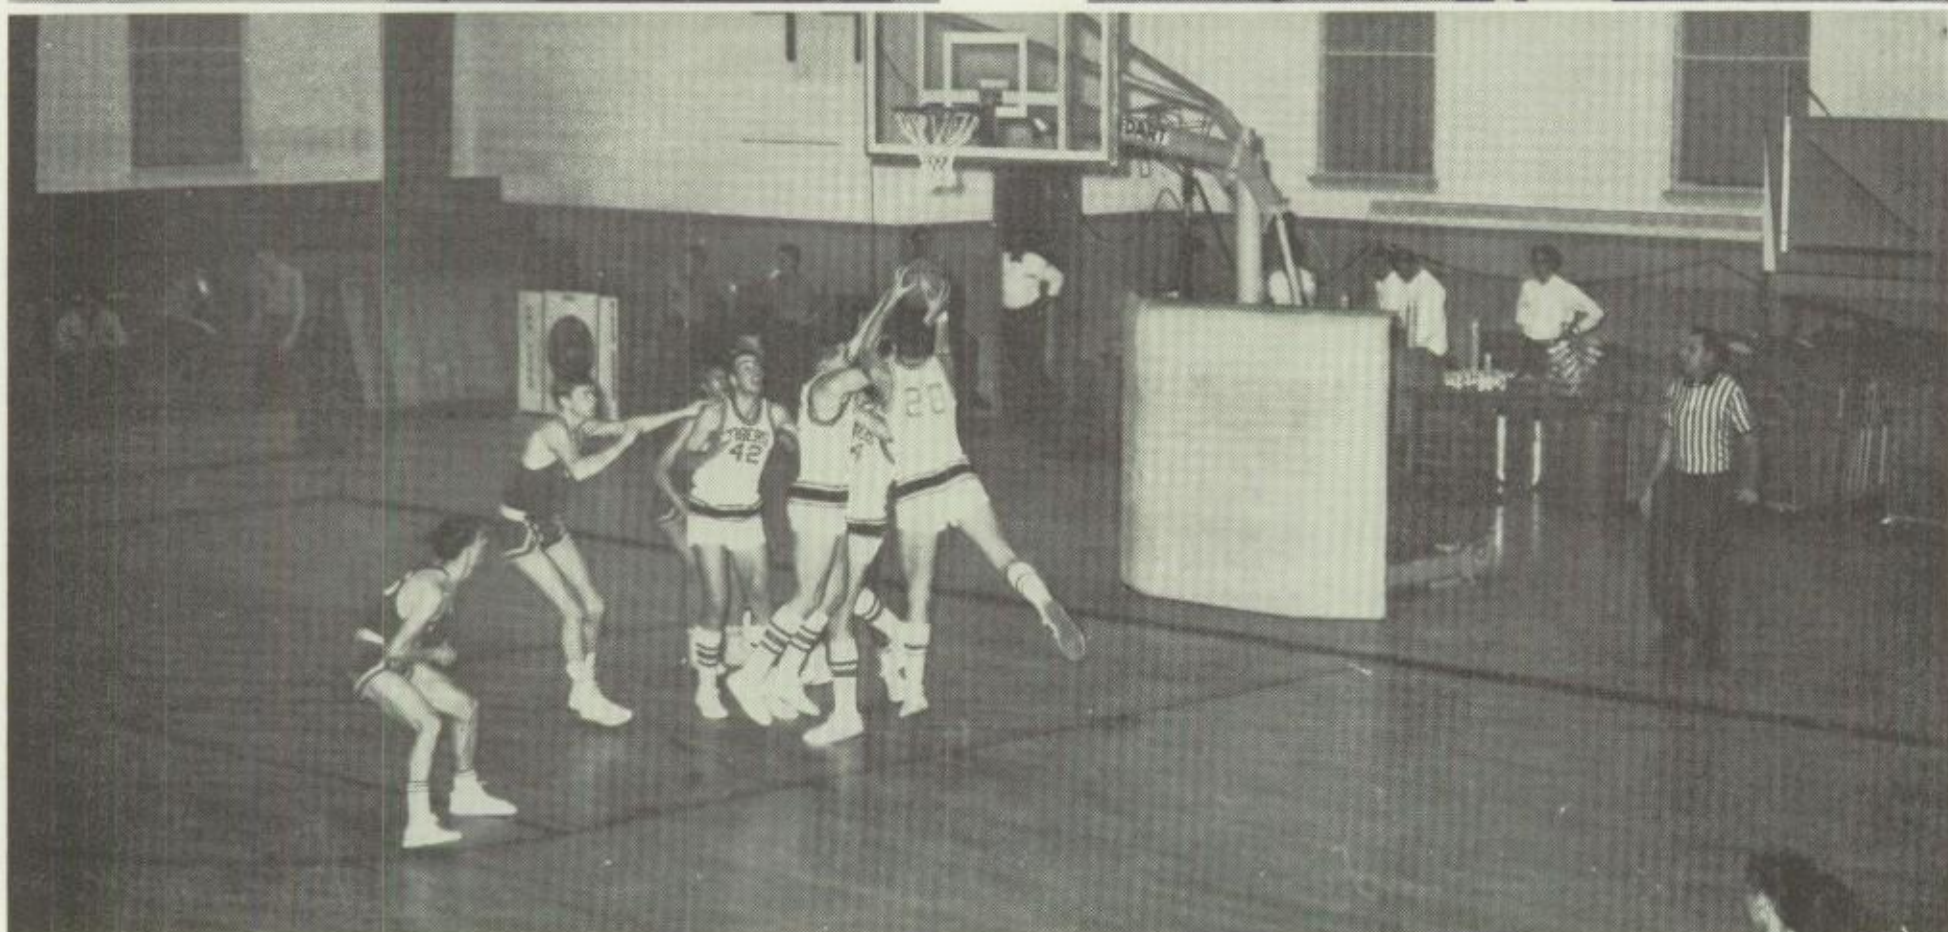

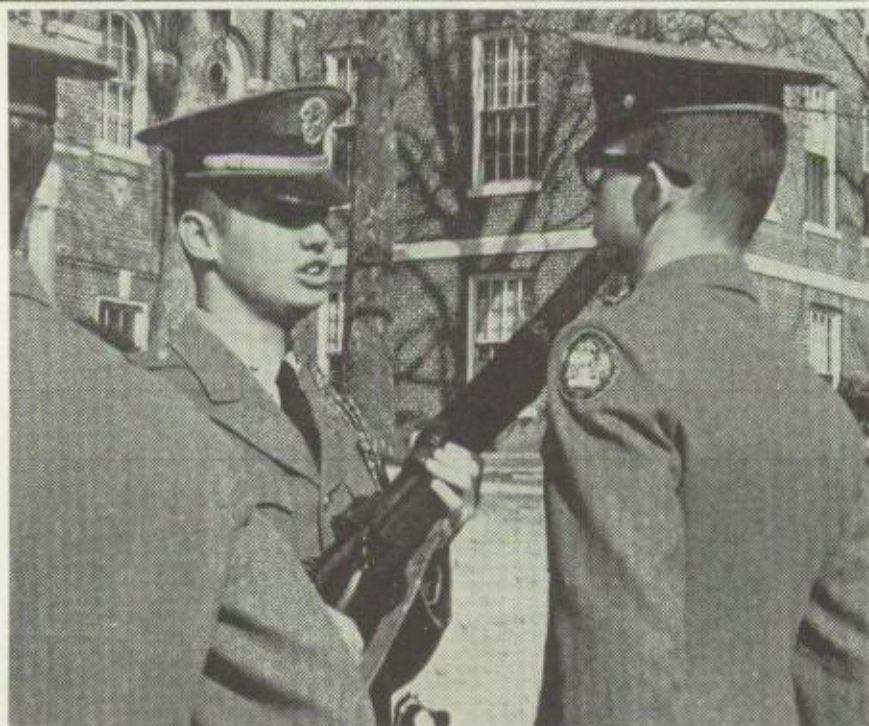

About the ring—it's yours. When you look into the stone of your ring, you should be able to see all the wonderful events that led up to the ring, the proud achievement of being a senior, the memories of your senior year, and the academic achievements of your lifetime. Many have spent twelve years in trying to win this ring, some even longer. In the coming years, let it serve as a reminder—a reminder of different things. A proud reminder.

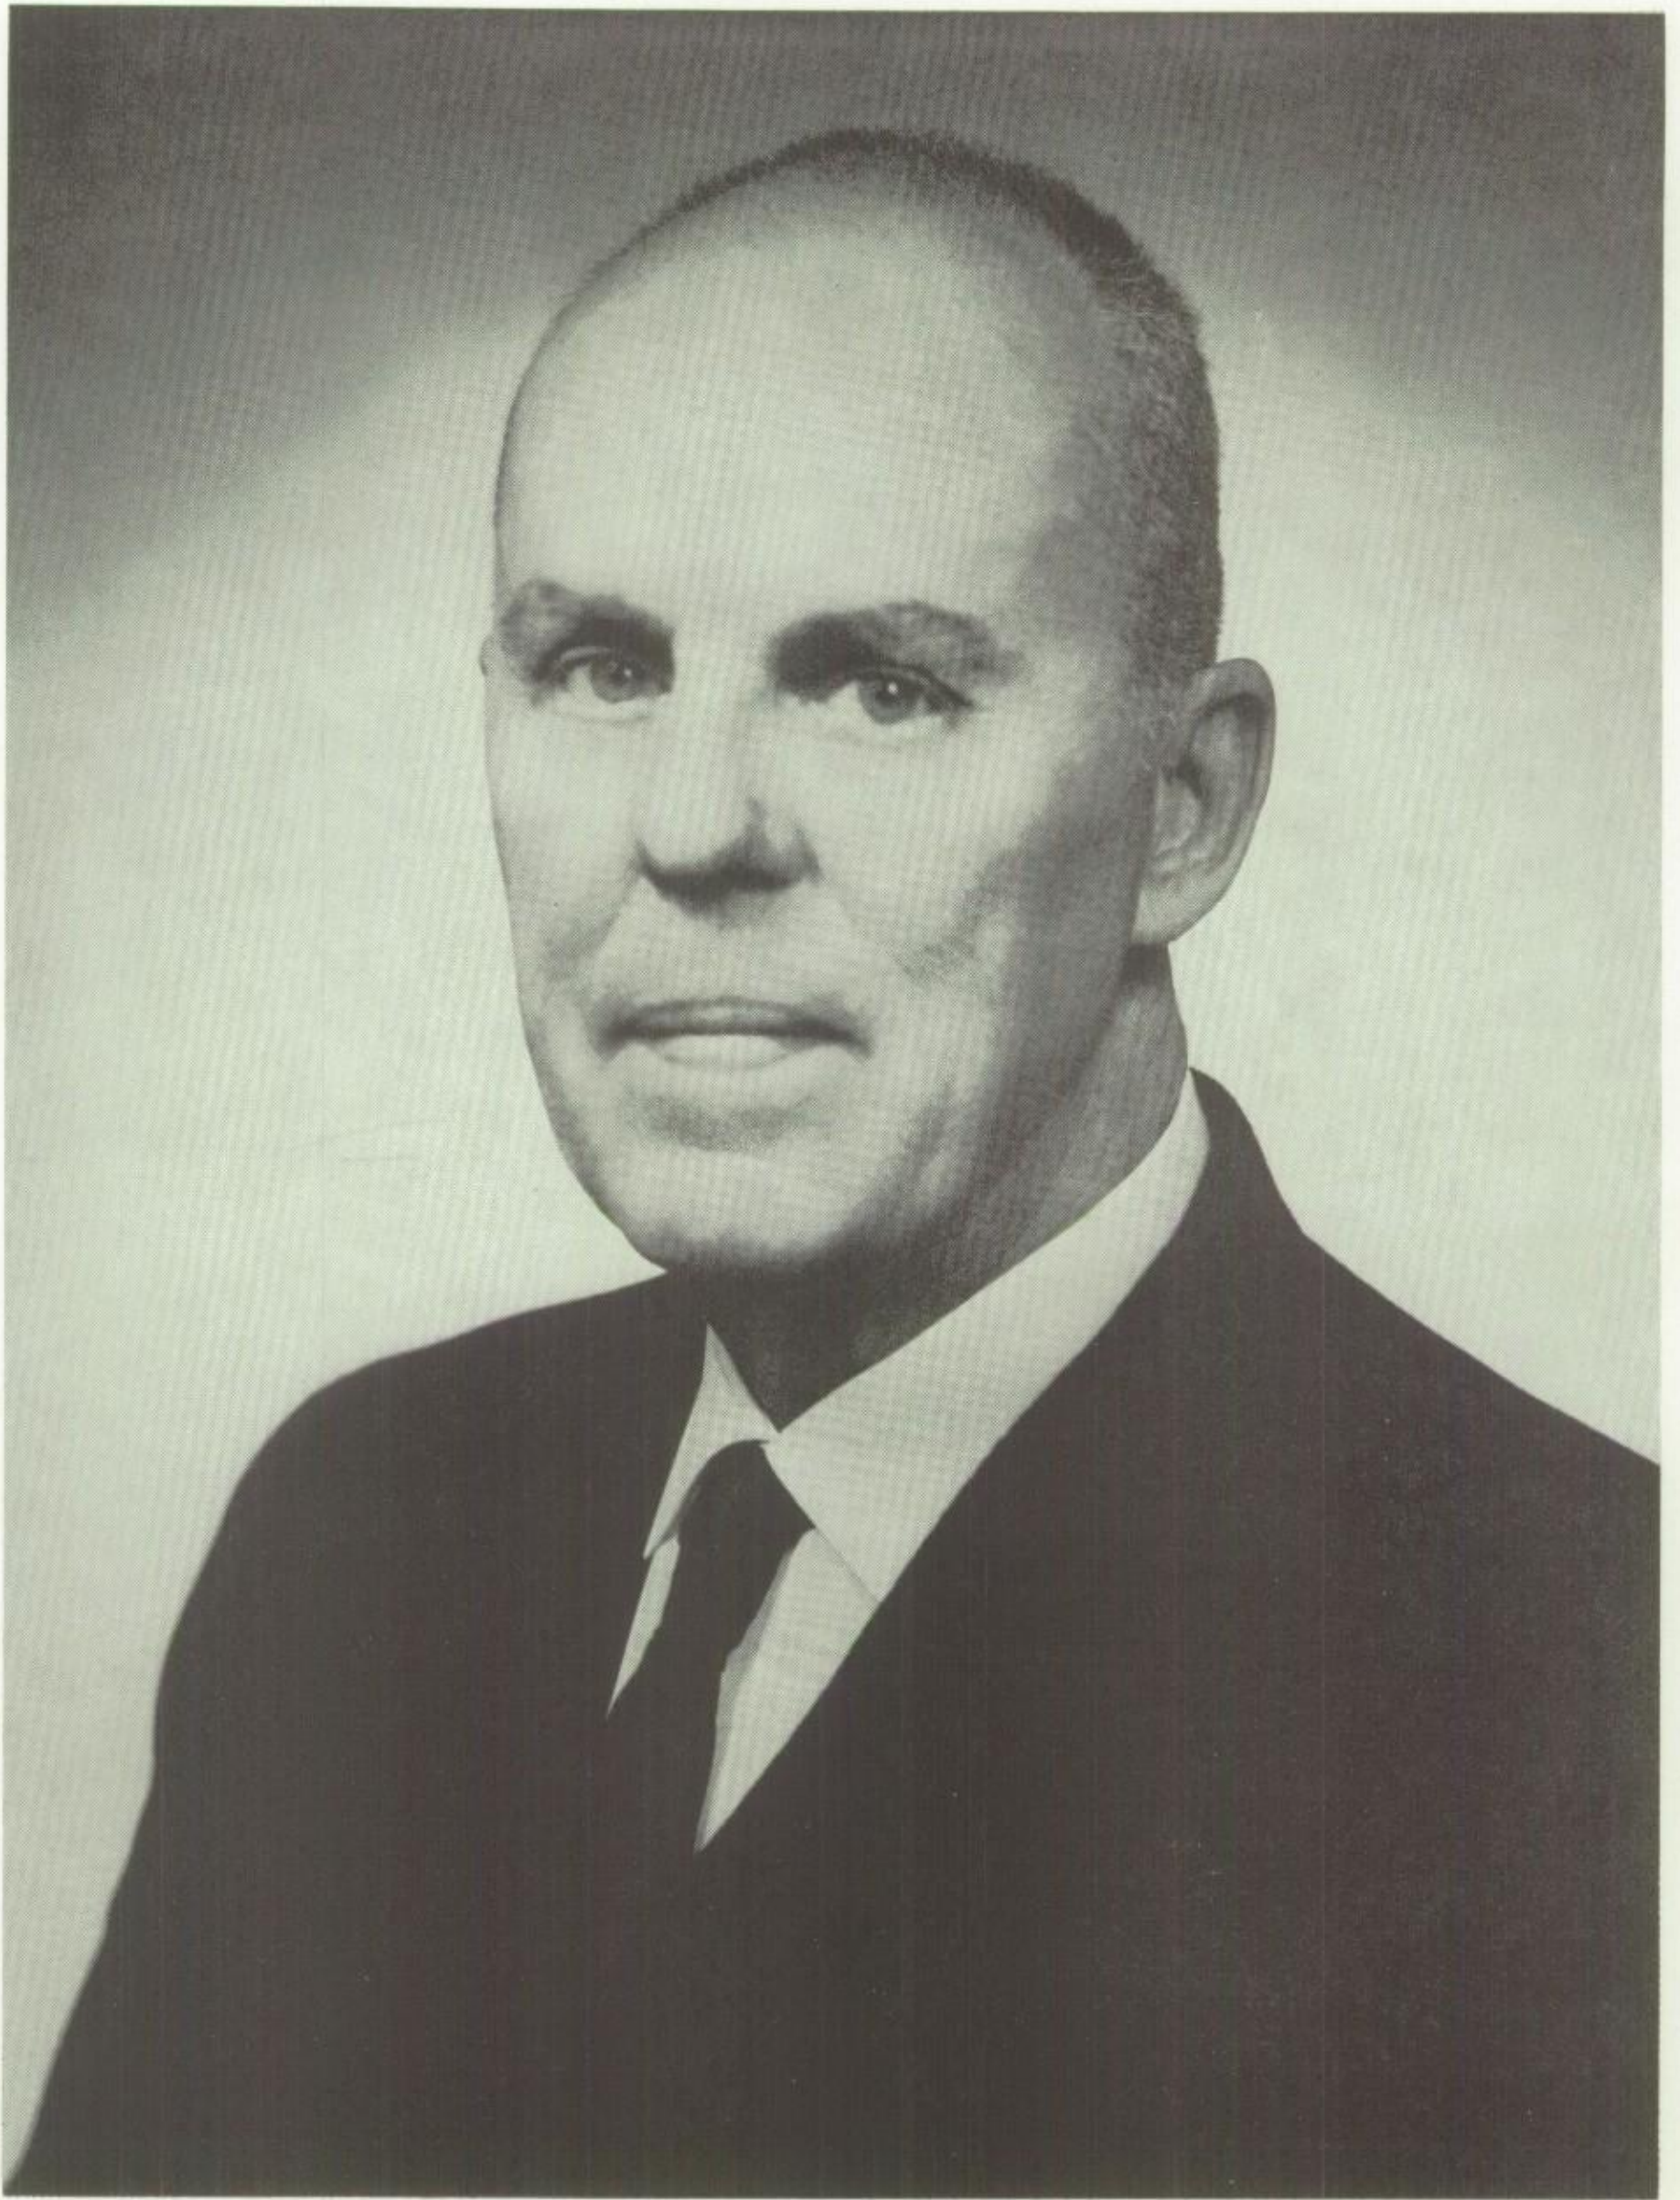

Experience At The Barber Shop

The first thing a cadet hears as he enters the barber shop is the vicious clippers or the voice of Curtis, the barber, sounding out. If the cadet is lucky enough not to have to wait in line, he will instantly feel Curtis's shears cutting off all the hair he has grown in the last two weeks. Not only will he get a haircut but he will hear a wonderful sermon from the old boy. As the cadet checks off his name and leaves, he can feel the cold air rush through his newly cut hair.

Mr. Charles M. Pace, Jr.

Dedication

It is with pride and pleasure, that we, the editors, of the 1968 CADENCE, dedicate this, the fifty-ninth edition, to Mr. Charles M. Pace, Jr.

Mr. Pace, throughout his fourteen years of service at Hargrave, has proved himself to be a friend that cadets could take their troubles to. Although he has been a rigorous taskmaster, his witty sayings and good humor have helped to move countless cadets down the road to enlightenment.

For over ten years Mr. Pace served as adviser to the CADENCE, and during this time, he never received any recognition. Gratitude must be expressed to any man who gives completely of himself. And so, we can simply say "Thank you, Mr. Pace. Thank you for your devotion in years past. We shall never forget the man that instilled in us the characteristic of perfection."

PRESIDENTS COUNCIL

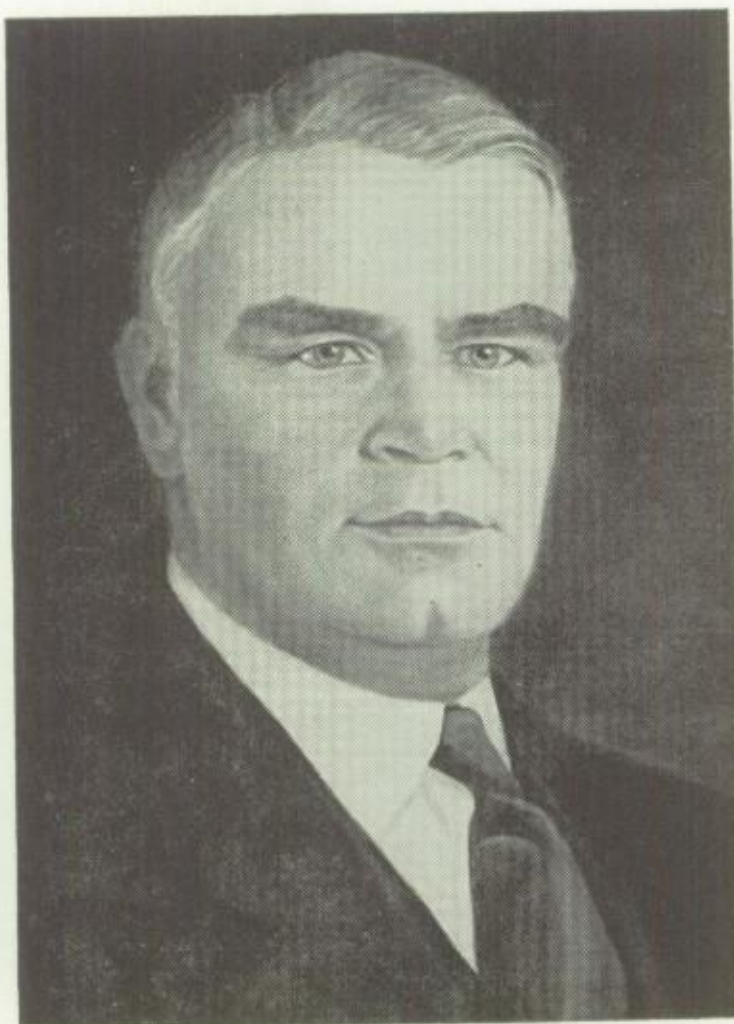

SITTING — Mrs. Ingram, Col. Todd, Col. Cosby, Col. Rodgers, Mr. Tune. STANDING — Dr. Spradlin, Mr. Mosely, Dean Lankford, Mr. Price, Capt. Caldwell.

The President's Council is made up of prominent members of the staff and faculty who meet together each week to discuss any problems that develop and need to be straightened out. These problems may be anything from the temperature in the swimming pool to the length of the intramurals course. The Council also discusses any school policy before it becomes a part of the Rules and Regulations. The group has done a wonderful job during this, its first year.

DEPARTMENT HEADS

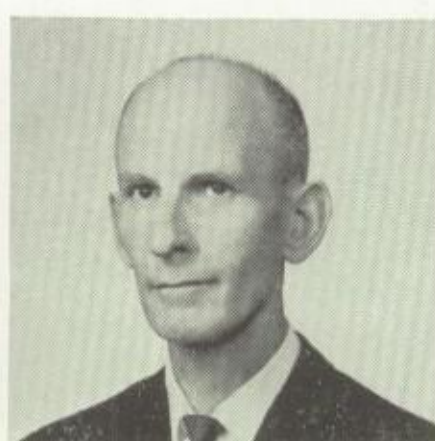

The men and women who serve as Department Heads have a great responsibility and a great deal of work is placed upon them. Being selected to serve as a Department Head is a great honor. They meet with their various department members in scheduled meetings to decide what changes will be made and considered, all in hopes that improvement will be made in their department. The Department Head presides at these meetings and he is responsible to the Academic Dean for his duties.

The Battalion Staff is made up of the cadets who head the many departments of Hargrave Military Academy. To them is handed the orders for operating Hargrave, and by them these orders are carried out. Though at times it seems as if they can do nothing right, without them, the many parts of Hargrave could not operate. Their's is a hard job, though that too is often questioned, but they strive very hard to mold the Cadet Corps into a unit which all who are a part of can be proud.

The Battalion Staff this year is headed by Cadet Lt. Col. V. T. Lankford, Jr.

The Trademarks of Hargrave

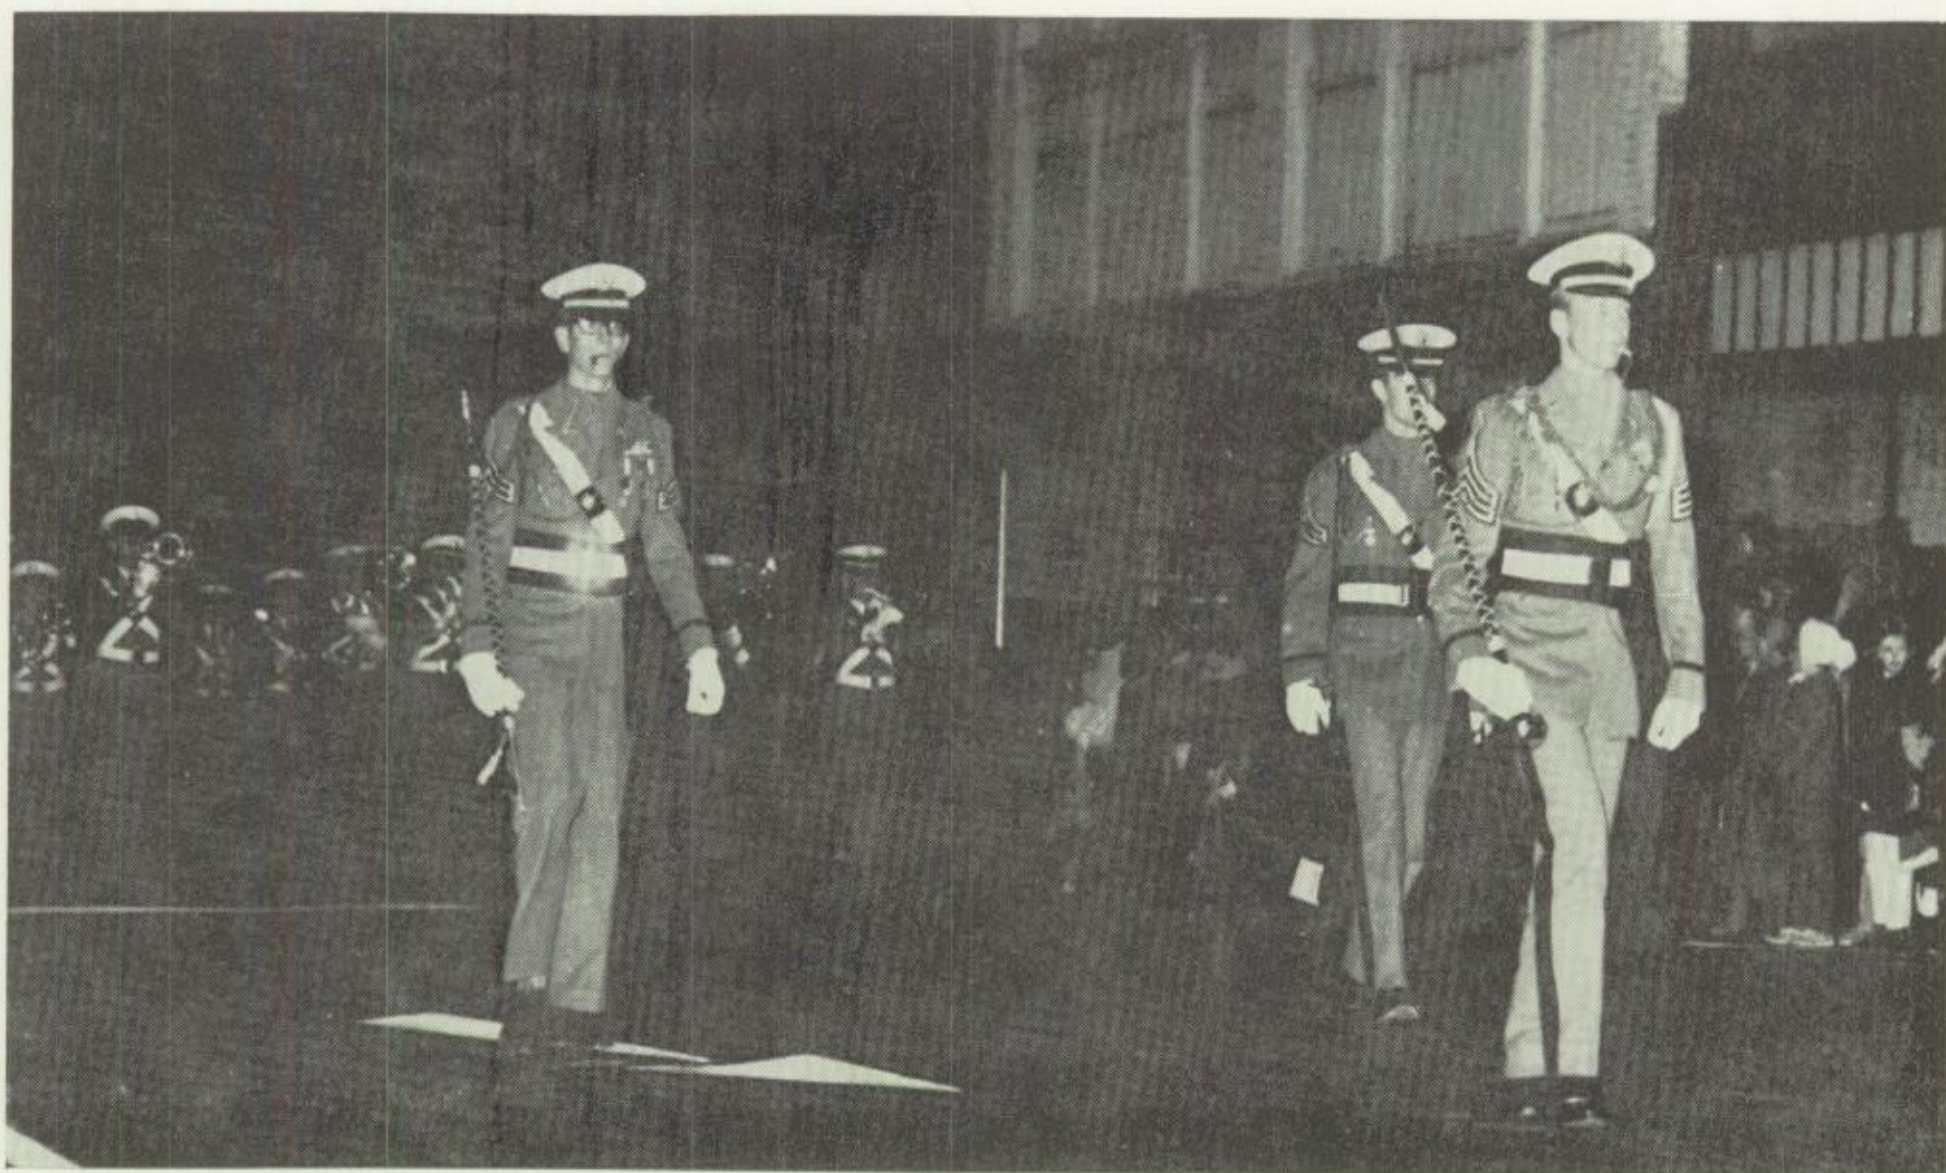

Winner take all

The band went to Charlotte and won.

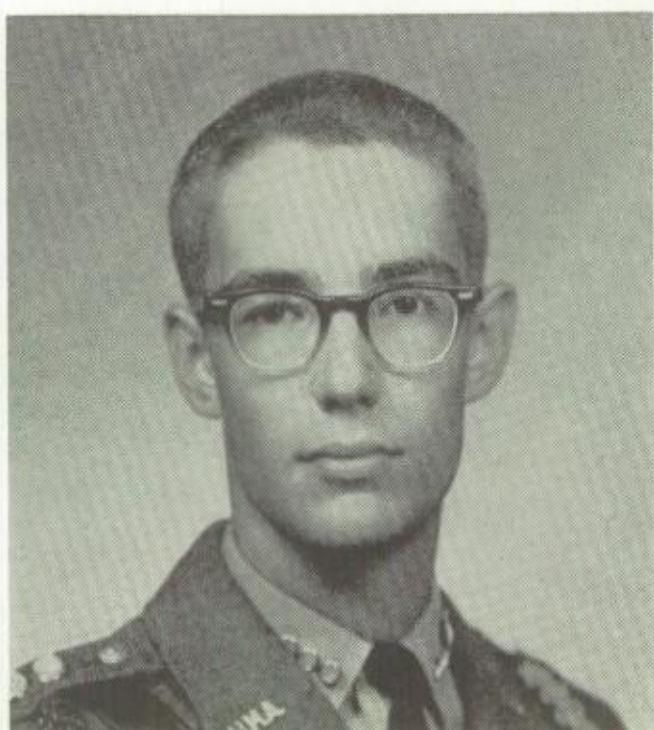

At Charlotte, the band displayed fine form as they took first place in the marching division. The drill team added to the splendor of the night as they thrilled the crowd with their marching and movements. The school was well represented as our boys brought home the bacon.

As exhibited in the pictures above and below, the H.M.A. marching band is a participating band. The '68 band has had a few difficulties. They did not have a music director, but with their competent officers, they have earned many honors. The band is not only well known in Virginia but also throughout the entire east. Each member of the band has reaped his own rewards through contributing his abilities to the unit. It is with gratitude that we, the members of the corps say "thanks".

HARGRAVE MILITARY ACADEMY

CHATHAM, VIRGINIA

TELEPHONE HEMLOCK 2-2481

June 1, 1968

Dear Graduating Senior:

Your room may be filled by another cadet next year but he will not fill your place. You have left a part of yourself at Hargrave. We hope that it is a part of your better self because we want that this school shall be increasingly a better school.

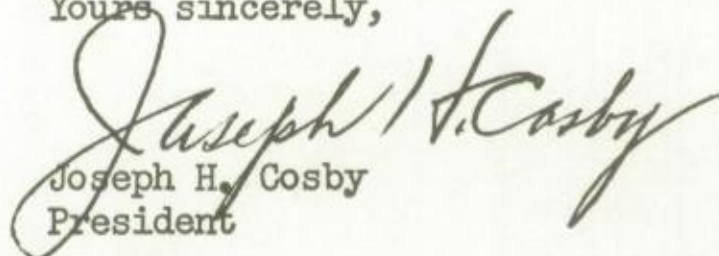

We have tried to lift your sights. Aim high! "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills - "No low living for me", I hear you say. A preparatory school should prepare one not merely for college but for life. We would like to think that the Hargrave way of life is basic enough to be worthy of reproduction in the busy world of which you will become a part.

We have endeavored to build a certain kind of confidence into you that will make you to feel adequate. We hope that you have met your real self at Hargrave. Knowing yourself provides you with the opportunity of improving yourself. Improvement belongs to the great adventure of living. The adventure of living is never drab, or dull, or uninteresting. It is hoped that you will think of Hargrave Military Academy as your launching pad.

We still believe that the interpretation of life is religious. God originated History and God will terminate History. With God we are making History. Much of history is personal. One's place and one's part is important. You can become the greatest man that you have ever known. This is not a mockery but a mastery. Your principles will enable you to fulfill your destiny.

This is not a farewell letter. We expect you to touch home base many times during the years ahead. You can be an inspiration to us as we seek to do for other boys who will be succeeding you. Memory will color many of the experiences and values that we hold.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph H. Cosby
President

The Valedictorian

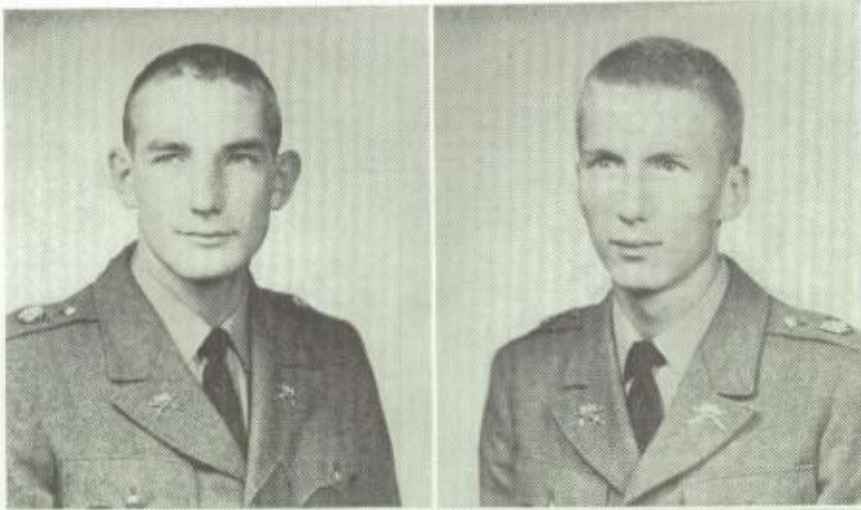

Today we recognize increasingly the essentiality of artistic achievement. This is part, I think of a nationwide movement toward excellence—a movement which had its start in the admiration of expertness and skill in our technical society, but which now demands quality in all realms of human achievement.

—John F. Kennedy

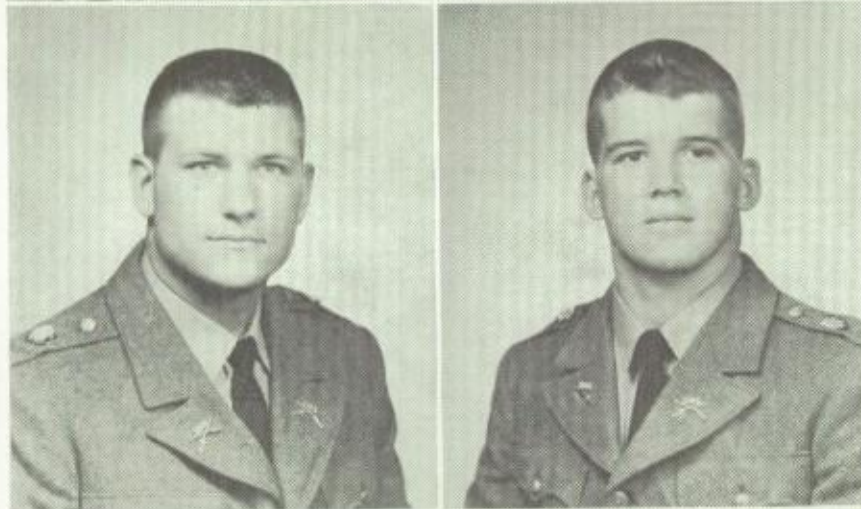

Representing the "quality in all realms of human achievement," Colonel Vernon T. Lankford, Jr., valedictorian of the senior class of 1968.

MANY of them will be receiving rank next year. Rank is not everything, but to them it will symbolize their merit of accomplishment.

In two years these young men will be seniors ready to take their place as leaders of the cadet corps.

The Class of 1970 looks forward to becoming alumni of Hargrave.

CLASS OF 1971

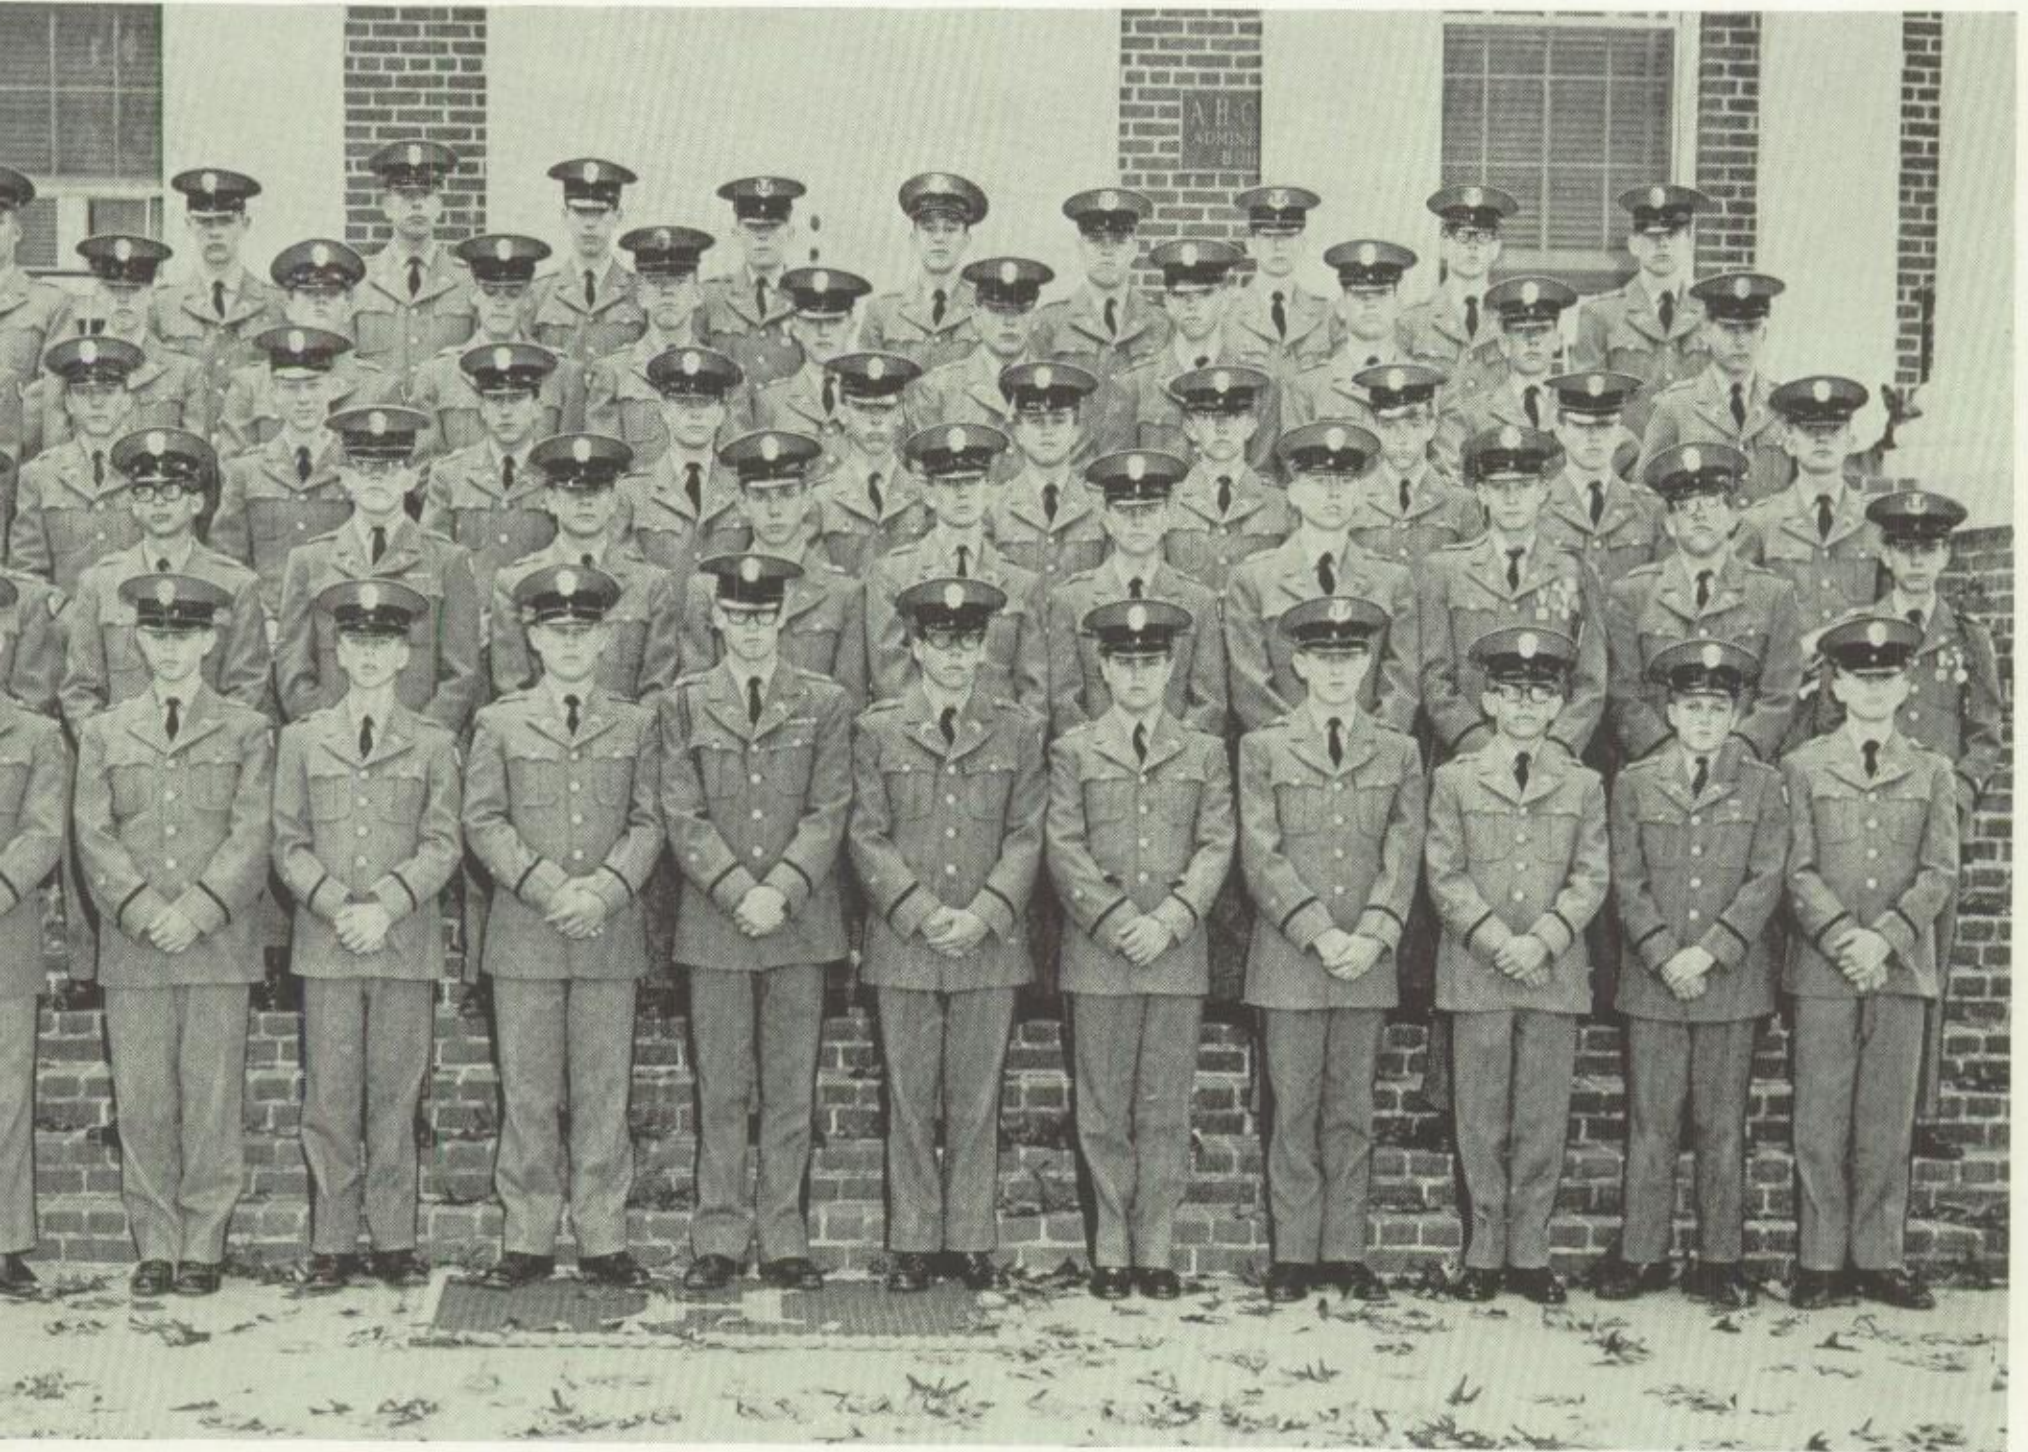

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

(Standing) Robert Mayes, President and Honor Council. (Sitting) William McAllister, Treasurer; Eric Wells, Sgt. of Arms.

FRESHMAN CLASS OF 1971

The Class 1971 was glad to return to Hargrave this year for its second year. The cadets were now able to refer to themselves by the prestigious title of "old boys".

They are now in high school and from now on they realize that good grades will be a very important goal for them to achieve. Although graduation and college are a far-off phase of life, such aspects of life are becoming more and more evident in their minds.

Although still young, some cadets have found their goal in life while others are still in doubt. They are all confident in the fact that Hargrave has ingrained in their minds ideals such as honor and honesty, and that such ideals are not easily lost through the coming years.

CLASS OF 1972

The Class of 1972 sees the first year at Hargrave as a completely different experience. For many it is the first time that they have been away from home. Things like "Saturday Morning Inspection" and "Manual of Arms" are terms that they have never heard used.

Through the following years they will learn the value of a methodical and orderly approach to tasks. They will learn that truth, honor, and integrity are the bases of character.

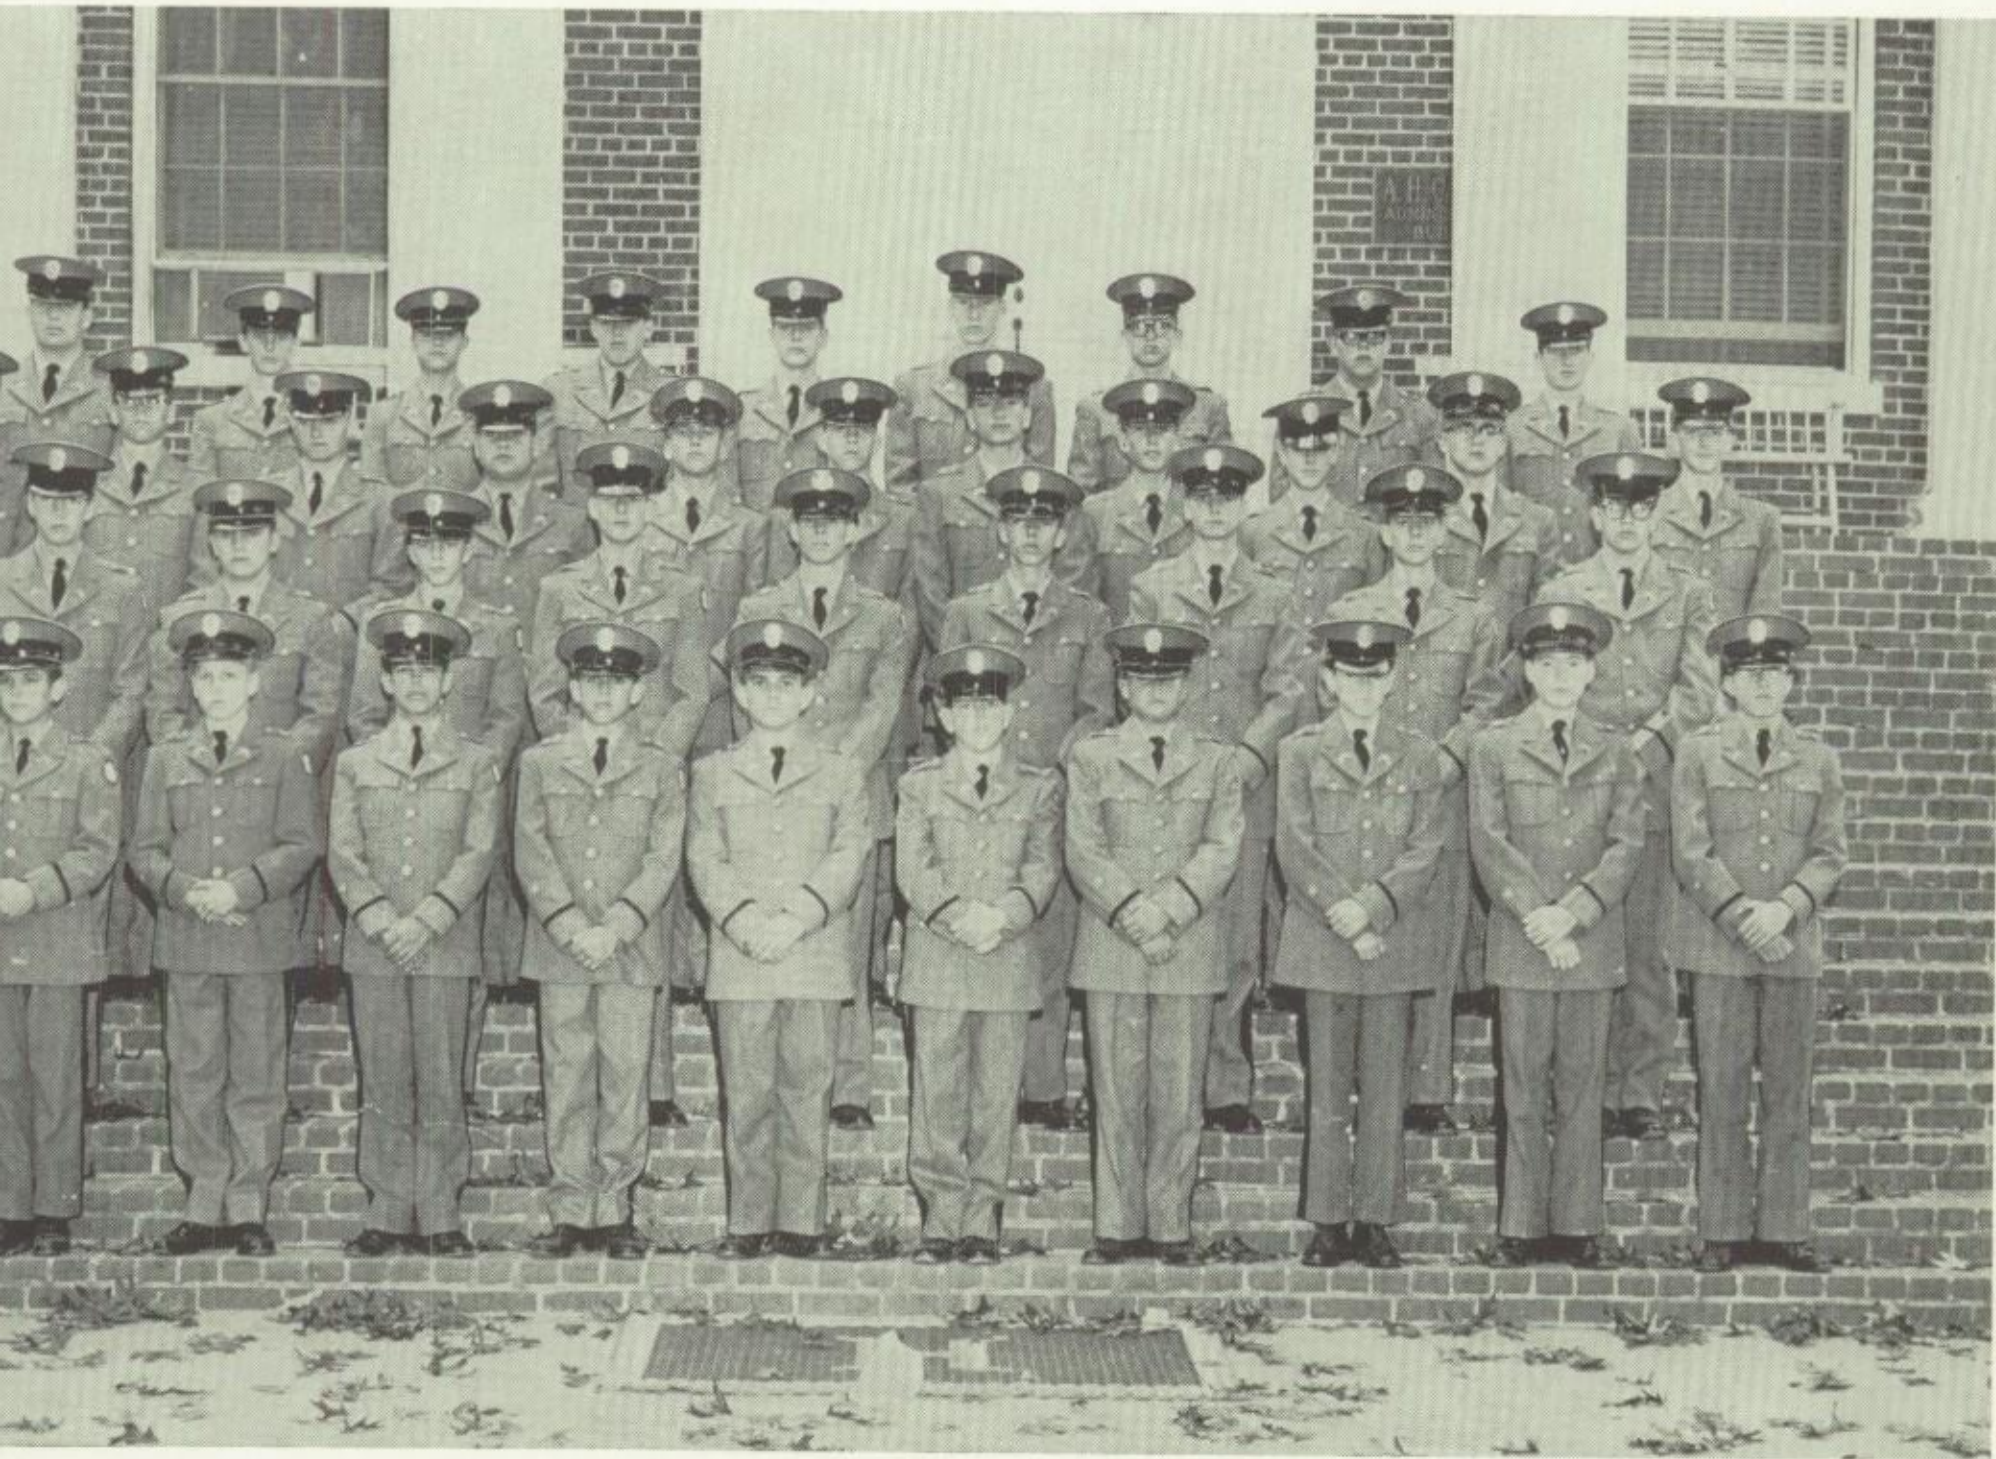

They will want to return to Hargrave year after year until that day that they walk up on that platform and receive that diploma.

Through proper guidance they will soon learn that good grades and hard work go hand in hand. They will follow their dreams and achieve success.

The Activities

THE HONOR COUNCIL

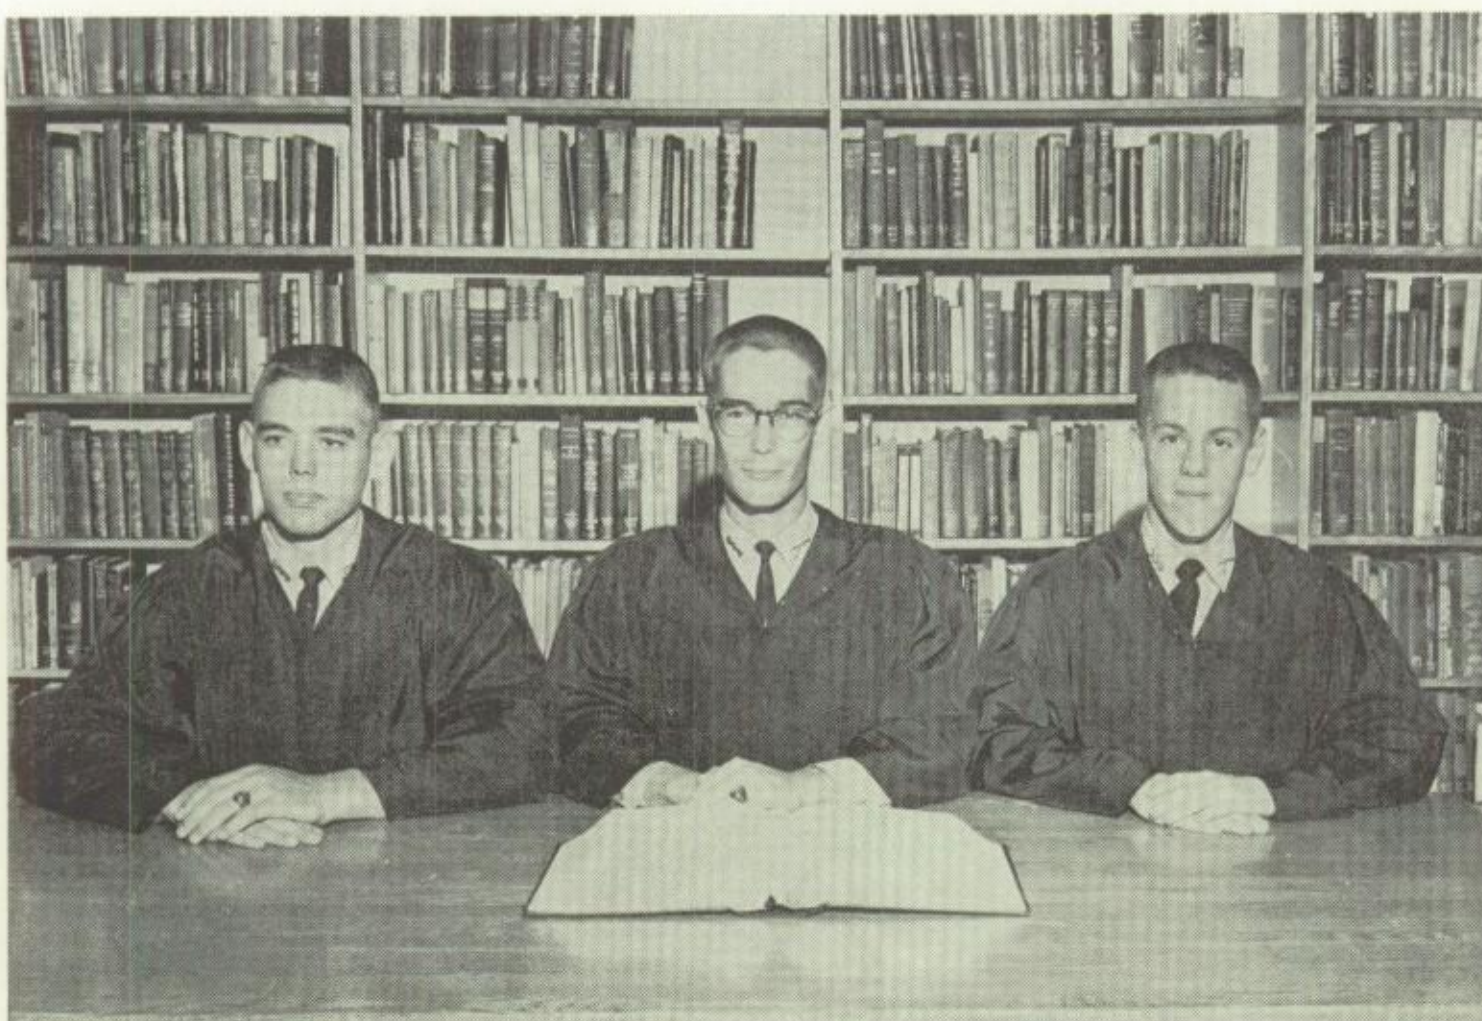

(Sitting) Kenneth Wells, Greg Upchurch, Bob Wiley. (Standing) Bob Mays, Ned Wright, Mr. Cline, Miles Ward, Rowe Eckard.

Honor is a sense of that which is right, just, and true. The sole purpose of the Hargrave Honor System is to instill this sense of honor in every Hargrave cadet. Since the honor system is cadet operated, the Honor Council is the agent of the corps which maintains and builds the honor system. Cheating, lying, stealing, and failing to report a violation witnessed are the basic offenses for which a cadet may be tried by the Honor Council. The Honor Council defines lying as: "the willful misuse of the truth, in an official capacity, either oral or written".

The Honor Council is composed of five members elected by their respective class and three members appointed by the administration from the junior and senior class. The faculty adviser to the Honor Council is Mr. Joseph F. Cline.

The Honor Council is organized in such a way that each cadet must conduct himself in such a manner that his own honor is above reproach. Through a willingness to report violations of the Honor Code that he has witnessed, each cadet must assume a portion of the responsibility for the conduct of his fellow cadets.

ChairmanGregory Upchurch
 Vice-ChairmanKenneth Wells
 RecorderRobert Wiley

Any member elected or appointed to serve on the Honor Council must agree to the rules, and regulations of Hargrave Military Academy. He, as a member of the Council, must seek to maintain a high sense of honor in the cadet corp and keep the temptation of dishonesty to the lowest possible minimum. The Council must faithfully, honestly, and without personal feeling judge all cases reported to the Honor Council.

The H.M.A. honor concept is one of the most important aspects of a cadet's life here at Hargrave, and it probably contributes more to the character building of a cadet than any other factor.

Hargrave was founded on the belief that along with a thorough development of intellect of the high school student, there must be development of those personal qualities which will constitute a life of integrity and self-discipline. For this reason, our Honor System is the most important aspect of a cadet's life while he is here at the Academy.

SABRE CLUB

(5th Row) Frank Reade, Tom Bradshaw, Gene Tisdell.

The Hargrave Sabre Club is composed of all the cadet commissioned officers in the Corps of Cadets. At the club's regular meetings throughout the school year, they discuss the morale of the Corps along with any problems which may arise, and possible solutions to these problems.

The Sabre Club sponsors the annual Military Ball each year, and this year's dance was hailed as the best ever. The officers plan the dance to the last detail and committees are chosen to decorate the new gym, to secure flowers and the entertainment for the evening. This year a record number of officers, cadets, and parents attended the Ball, which was held on Saturday night, February 17.

Colonel Andrew W. Todd, Commandant, served the Sabre Club this year as Faculty Advisor.

Tommy Lankford, President; Dewey Loving, Vice President; Danny Buck, Sec.-treas.

N.C.O. CLUB

All of the non-commissioned officers at Hargrave Military Academy have again continued to have the N.C.O. Club during the school year of 1967-1968.

The club consists of seniors with N.C.O. rank and the rank of buck sergeant.

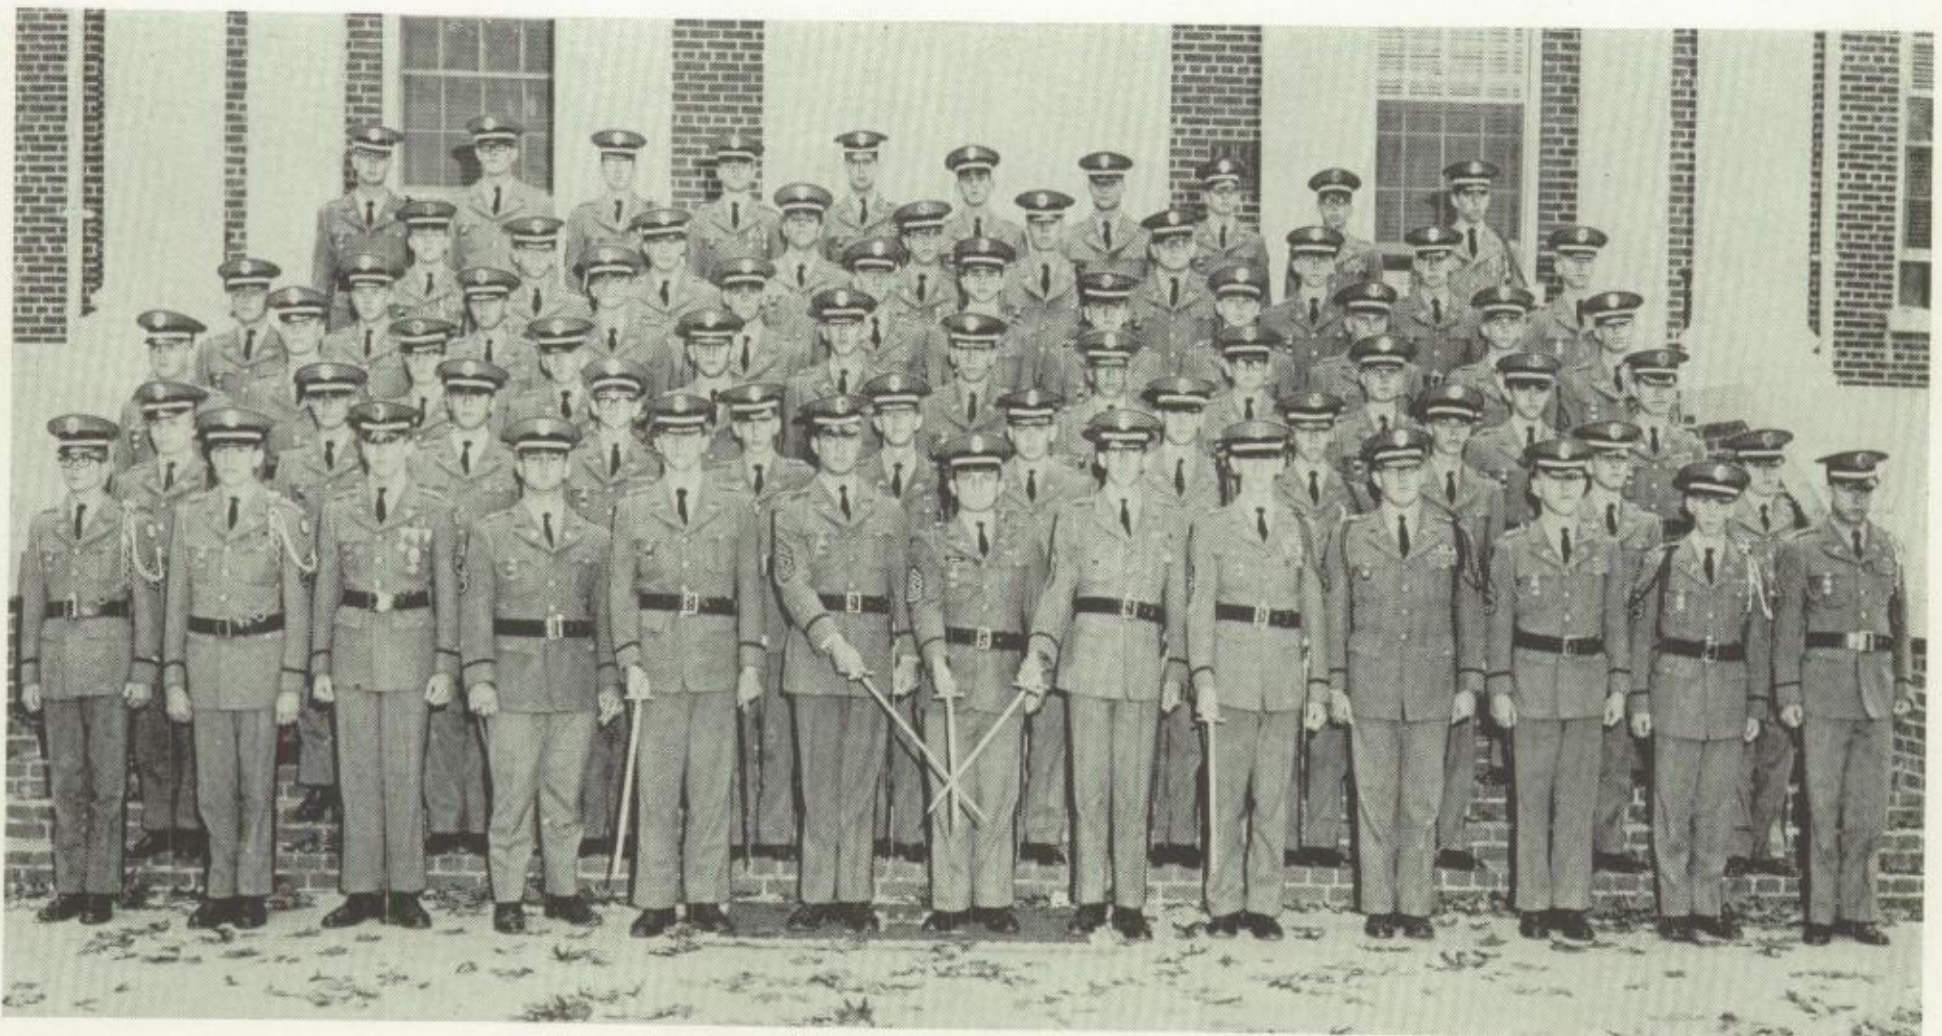

The N.C.O. Club holds meetings several times during the school year to devise ways to improve the cadet corps.

The N.C.O. Club is considered the backbone of the corps by setting fine examples of leadership and good conduct.

The faculty adviser of the N.C.O. Club is Lt. Col. Cirlin W. Rogers, Professor of Military Science and an active officer in the Virginia National Guard.

THE BETA CLUB

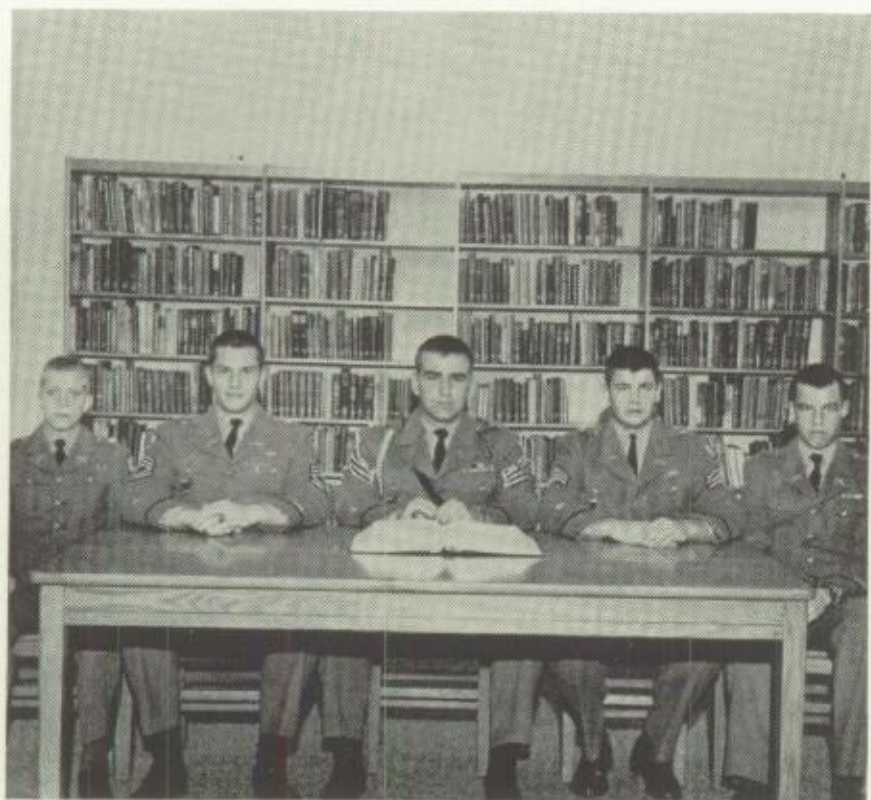

Fred Cooke, Bob Wiley, Bill Flythe, John Turner

The Beta Club is a national organization which emphasizes three principles, leadership, integrity, and courage. The qualifications for membership are a high academic average, leadership, and co-operativeness with school authorities. This year's Beta Club project was a micro-film reader for the library. This micro-film reader will be used to read micro-film of newspapers and magazines, thus saving a great deal of space. A member of this year's club, Col. Tommy Lankford, was elected president of the Virginia State Beta Club.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

William Chaney, Steve Duncan, Danny Buck, Bill Doherty, Laurie Pratt.

The F.C.A. is a nationally sponsored organization which endeavors to instill in all the principles of leadership and good sportsmanship by using athletics as a medium of communication. It is the belief of the F.C.A. that the athletes of a school are very much looked up to and respected. The F.C.A., therefore, attempts to teach these principles to the athletes so that they may, in turn, pass on what they have learned.

This is accomplished in a number of ways. Tape recordings and movies of famous athletes are played at the meetings. Also, athletes from in and around the surrounding area are brought in to speak to the club. Hargrave has been very fortunate in the past to have such outstanding guest speakers as Chuck Beale, former All Southeastern Conference half back from V.M.I., Clink McGeary, former defensive tackle from the Green Bay Packers, and many more. Other outstanding members of the F.C.A. include such men as the following: Paul Dietzle, head coach of the University of South Carolina; Paul Anderson, the world's strongest man; and Carol Dale, flanker back for the World Champion Green Bay Packers. All of these men have as their uppermost thoughts the principles of leadership and good sportsmanship and the God who makes those principles possible.

THE GREGARIANS 1967-1968

Jim Heritage, Mr. Cather, Don McGery

The Gregarians is not a club, it is a fellowship of christians at Hargrave Military Academy. It does not have any requirements nor any dues, its only need is young men who want to talk to others interested in the main topic. The main topic is . . . GOD.

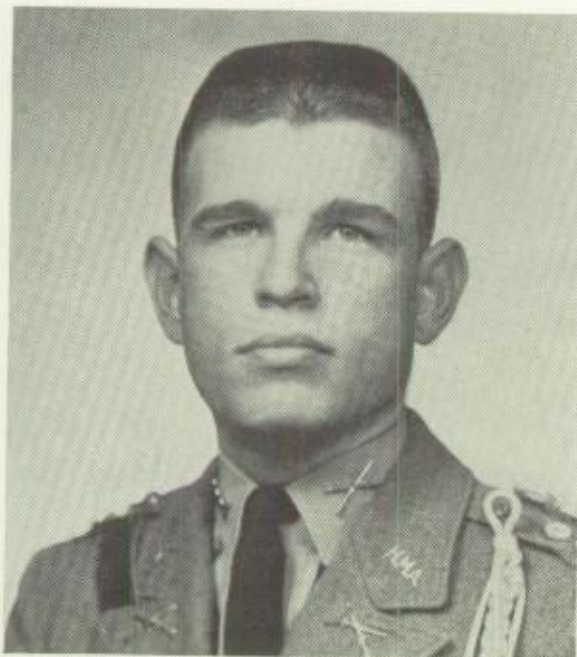

Two years ago this group was started by several cadets and Mr. Cather. It had the name of Hargrave Christian Fellowship. This year the name of this group was changed to the Gregarians. The reason for this was there was some conflict between the names of two other clubs, The Christian Activities Council and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Many young men got confused by the similarity in the different names, so the Gregarians decided to do something about it. They searched for an appropriate name and finally a member came up with the name Gregarians. Gregarians comes from the word gregarious, meaning fond of the company of others or sociable.

The sponser of this group is Mr. Morris E. Cather. Mr. Cather is a member of the Bible and English department of Hargrave Military Academy. He is highly respected by both the faculty and students of Hargrave.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Curtis Milton Ford, Jr.
Editor, THE CADENCE

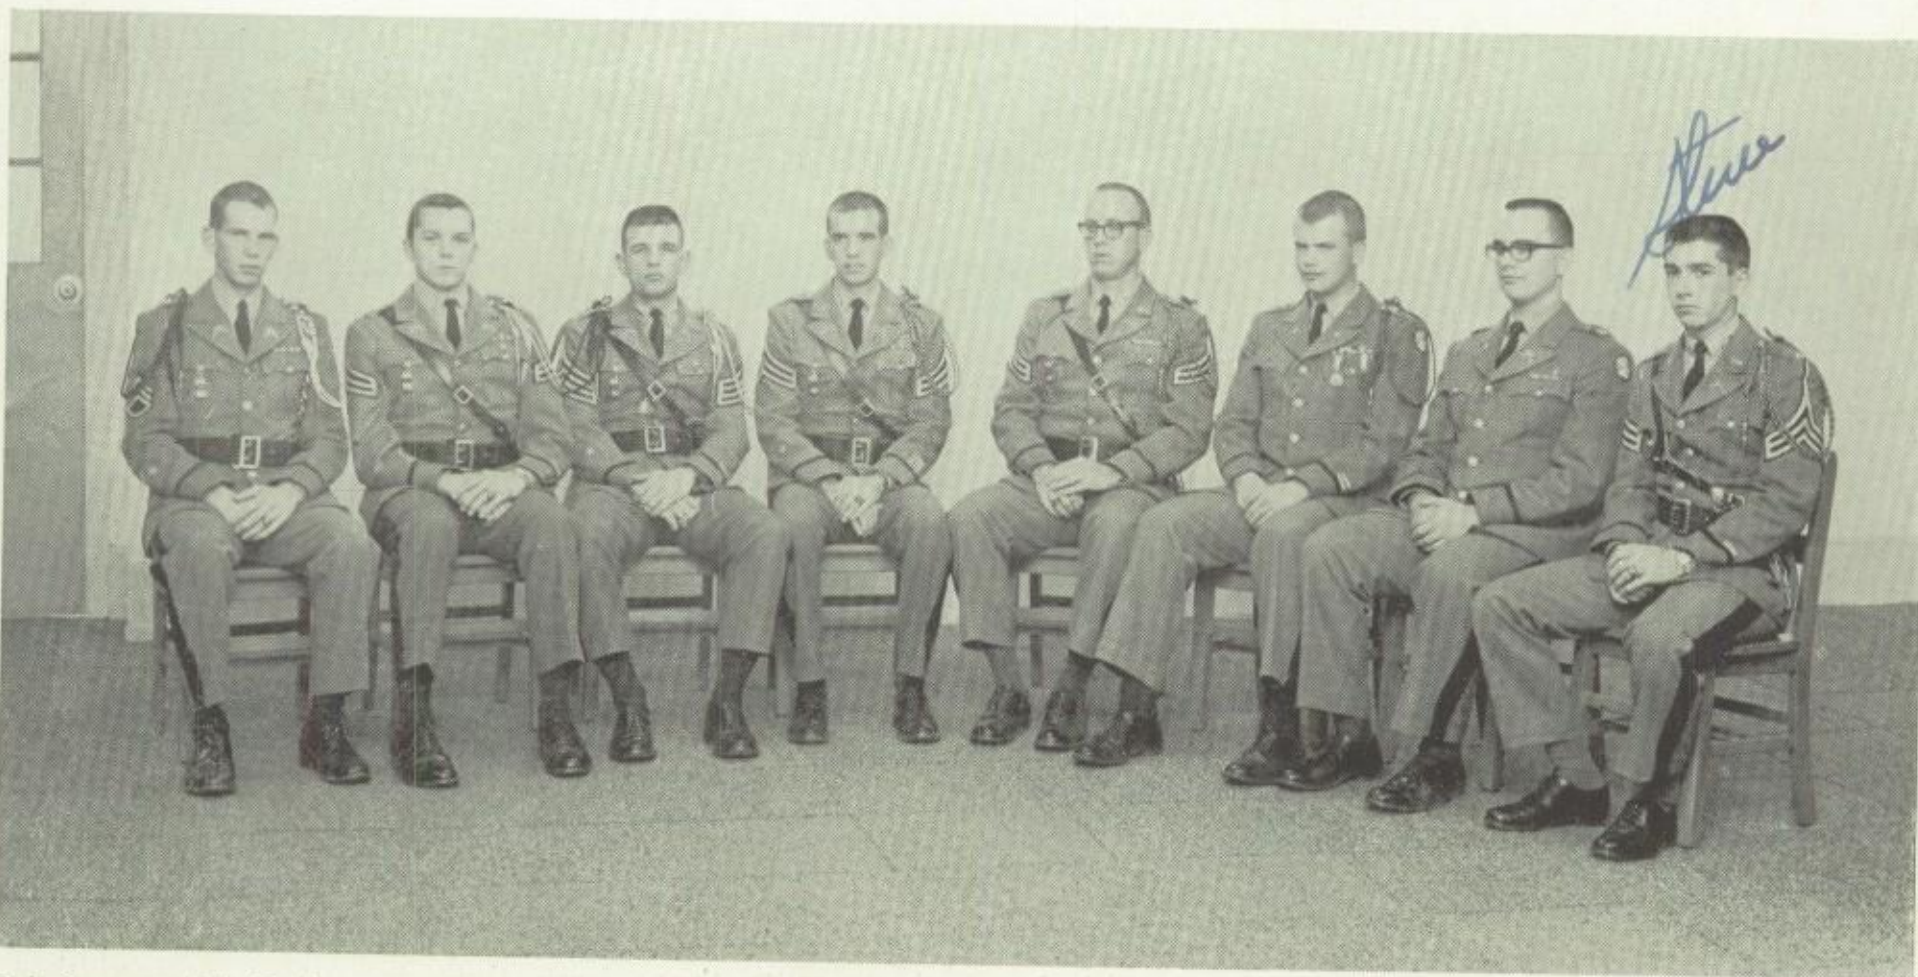

Bill Barbour
Editor, THE MUSKETEER

The Publications Board is the spark behind all journalistic publications at Hargrave and is composed of the editors, managing editors, and business managers of both THE CADENCE and THE MUSKETEER.

The main purpose and function of this group is to insure that a yearbook and a newspaper are printed at Hargrave each year. It also acts as a censure committee making sure that all material and information used in the various publications are in good taste and to the best interest of the school. One of its more helpful qualities is to promote good relations between the two staffs and to keep the ideas and principles of good journalism ever present at Hargrave.

The Publications Board is headed this year by Bill Barbour, Editor-in-Chief of THE MUSKETEER, and Curtis Ford, Jr., Editor-in-Chief of THE CADENCE. The faculty advisor is Mr. Garrison Hupp.

Bob Seeman, Bob Taylor, Curtis Ford, J. Lee Poates, Richard Abernethy, Barry Penrose, Bill Barbour, Steve Ewing.

Sterling Barnard, Vice President

Mike Hughes, Secretary

This club is composed of all the cadets who are on the staff of the CADENCE or the MUSKETEER. During its regular weekly meetings, the editors assign articles and stories to the reporters, plan coming events, make sure that photographers will be on hand, and discuss various problems which may arise on either the newspaper or the annual.

The members of the Journalism Club are interested in one thing—the art of journalism. Cadets who show any potential in the field of journalism are encouraged to join the club. During the meetings the members are taught the principles of good journalism.

At the end of the year, the members go to Danville for a banquet. Although the members of this club receive bars for their efforts, their main reward is the pride they have when one of the stories is published in one of the monthly issues of the MUSKETEER, or when they buy an annual and realize that they helped in the preparation of the book. This is worth more to these boys than any other reward that the school might bestow upon them.

Mrs. James D. Jones, faculty advisor to the MUSKETEER, and Mr. Garrison Hupp, faculty advisor to the CADENCE, are also the advisors to this club.

The MUSKETEER is the school newspaper published by the Journalism Club. The cadets devote much of their free time to the publication of the newspaper. The monthly paper has a circulation of over 2000 and is distributed to every cadet and many Hargrave graduates.

The paper plays an important part in the cadet's life by keeping him informed of all school activities. The MUSKETEER provides accurate and interesting details about sports and social events at Hargrave.

The twenty-one members of the MUSKETEER staff are composed of the following people: a editor-in-chief, a circulation officer, a business manager, a sports editor, a managing editor, reporters, photographers, and darkroom technicians.

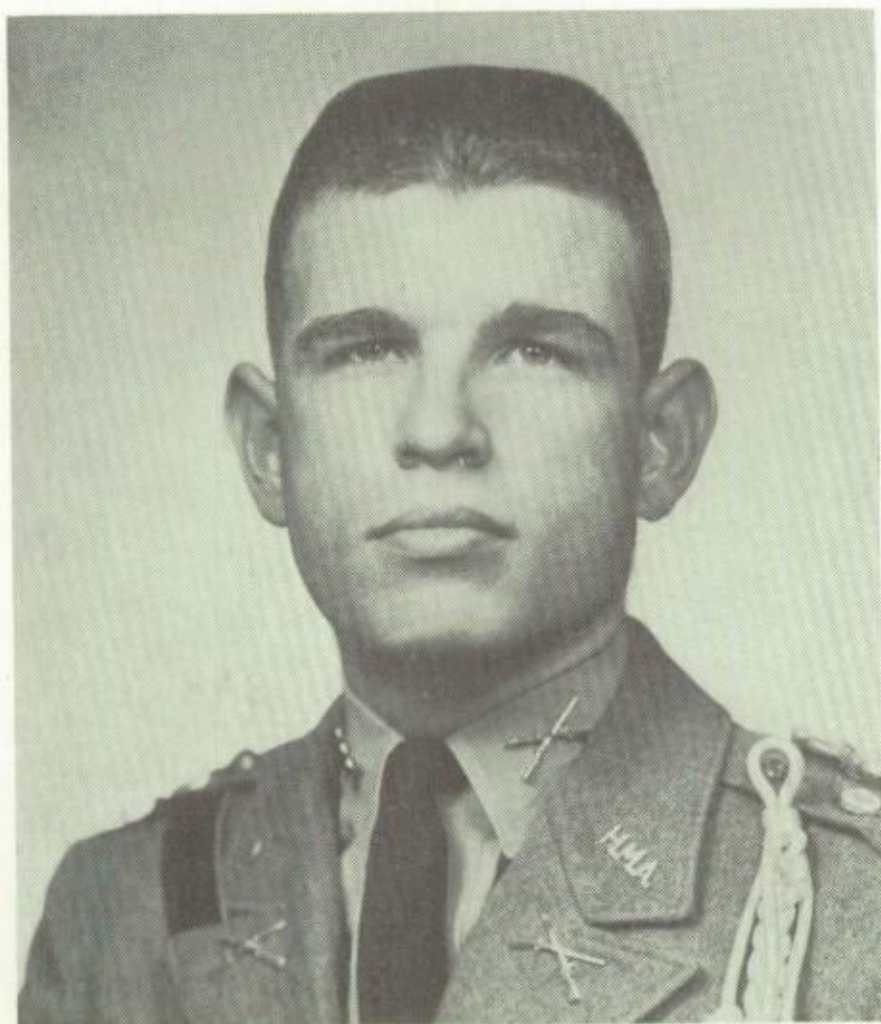

The staff operates a complete darkroom. Here MUSKETEER photographs are developed and printed each month.

The MUSKETEER is headed by Bill Barbour, who is serving as the editor-in-chief. Mrs. James D. Jones is the faculty advisor this year.

THE RADIO CLUB

Bill Hoyt, President
 Bob Seeman, Vice-President
 Bill Stevenson, Treasurer
 Louis Sinclair, Secretary

The Radio Club at Hargrave operates radio station WHMA. The idea of a radio station was brought up several years ago. However, this year marks its third year of successful operation. The cadets who work as disc jockeys are taught the principles of how a radio station is run and managed. All the actual work and engineering is done by the cadets themselves.

Radio station WHMA has two purposes. First and most important, the cadets are given a chance to see what it is really like to run a radio station. They are taught that a radio station has certain responsibilities that have to be fulfilled. The second purpose is to give the cadets on campus pleasurable radio listening without all the monotonous commercials.

All the cadets who work in WHMA are active and conscientious in their jobs. The station is very popular with the cadets and is known as "TIGER RADIO". Col. Ray B. Nichols served the club this year as faculty adviser. Many thanks go to him for his patience and understanding.

CHRISTIAN ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

Greg Upchurch Chairman
Curtis Ford, Jr. Vice-Chairman
Don McGeary Secretary

The Christian Activities Council is composed of twenty members — all of whom have an unbending interest in the Christian ideals of life. Headed this year by Greg Upchurch, Curtis Ford and Don McGeary, the council has sponsored such activities as morning devotions in the dining hall, Sing Out Dixie, and the annual Faith Home Christmas Party for underprivileged children. Although these are some of the accomplishments of the council, the major purpose of the council is to promote Christian principles and ideals in and around the campus.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Dick Peebles, President
Steve Ewing, Vice President
Lee Poates, Secretary-Treasurer

Phil Conrey, President
Dewey Loving, Secretary-Treasurer
Connally Branch, Sgt. At Arms

The International Relations Club exists for the cadet who feels there is some importance in the events of the world surrounding him. The club is open to all cadets who have interest in national and world affairs. The club meets twice each month during the school year and cadets present programs dealing with world affairs. Each member is required to present a program to the club.

Again, this year, it was necessary to divide the club into two sections because of the high membership. The highlight of this year was the club's trip to Danville for the annual steak dinner and banquet.

This year, Mr. Roger C. Wiley and Mr. James C. Akers served as faculty advisors of the club. Without their help we would not have had as well-functioning a club as we had.

SENIOR GLEE CLUB

James Saunders, President; John Turner, Vice-President; Lucian Gagliola, Secretary; Palmer May, Sgt. of Arms.

The Senior Glee Club is, as it has been in the past, the musical voice of Hargrave. This year the Glee Club met during the afternoon study hall or, as it has been called this year, sixth period. Since the class met just like any other class for required time, grades were issued and credit was given for the course.

As in the past, the Glee Club went on various trips throughout the year, along with giving various concerts at Christmas and in the Spring.

Mrs. James E. Parsons served as this year's Faculty Advisor and instructor of the group.

DON McGEARY

The Dramatics Club provides enjoyment for all Hargrave cadets. Through the plays they stage, the members of the Dramatics Club give the cadets a variety of entertainment during the school year. The members themselves benefit most by gaining lasting experience in the performing arts.

This year the Dramatics Club put on a delightful skit at the Faith Home Party. Later in the year the club members gave a skillful presentation of COMMAND DECISION.

DIRECTOR

For every play there has to be a director and this year's director was sensational. Don McGeary's highly artful and masterful leadership made this year's play, COMMAND DECISION, the great success that it was.

Don McGeary has been a cadet at Hargrave Military Academy for two years during which time he appeared in the highly successful performance of the CAINE MUTINY COURT MARTIAL, and in his senior year he played a double role as director and actor in COMMAND DECISION.

THE SKEET CLUB

The Skeet Club here at Hargrave Military Academy is open to all cadets for membership. During the fall and spring the members go up to the range to shoot.

The range was built in 1965 on the school farm. Since then the members have kept the range in good condition.

The guns are stored in back of the Ritchie Building along with the club's reloading equipment. Charlie Joyce, who is the club's most consistant shot, usually reloads all the ammunition.

In the five years that the club has been operating, only two boys have shot perfect rounds. These boys are Wesley Basham and Kirk McInnis.

Mr. Landon Spradlin serves as the Skeet Club's sponsor.

THE COMBO

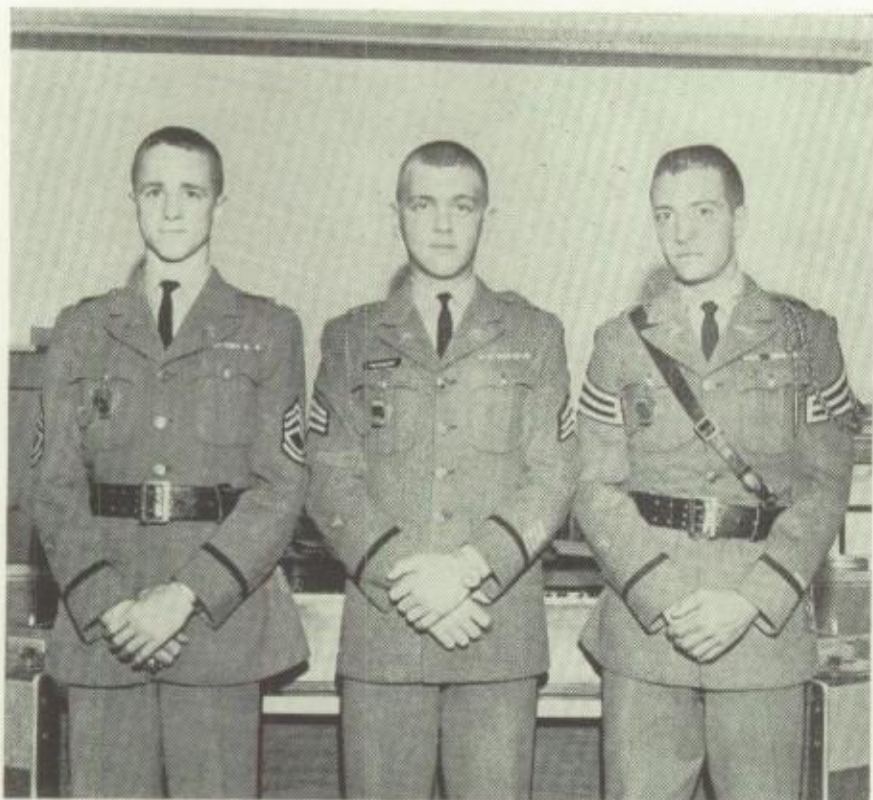

Sterling & Rutledge

"Experimental Soul Production, or E.S.P." was the name of the Hargrave Combo this year. For the past few years the Hargrave Combo has had the same members in it. This year, under the direction of Sterling Barnard, the group became a real sensation. Most of the members this year are new, and have brought with them a terrific self talent. E.S.P. has made many performances in Chatham at the Armory and some of the local churches. Through many hours of practice, the combo turned out to be one of the best combos in the surrounding area.

THE SPANISH CLUB

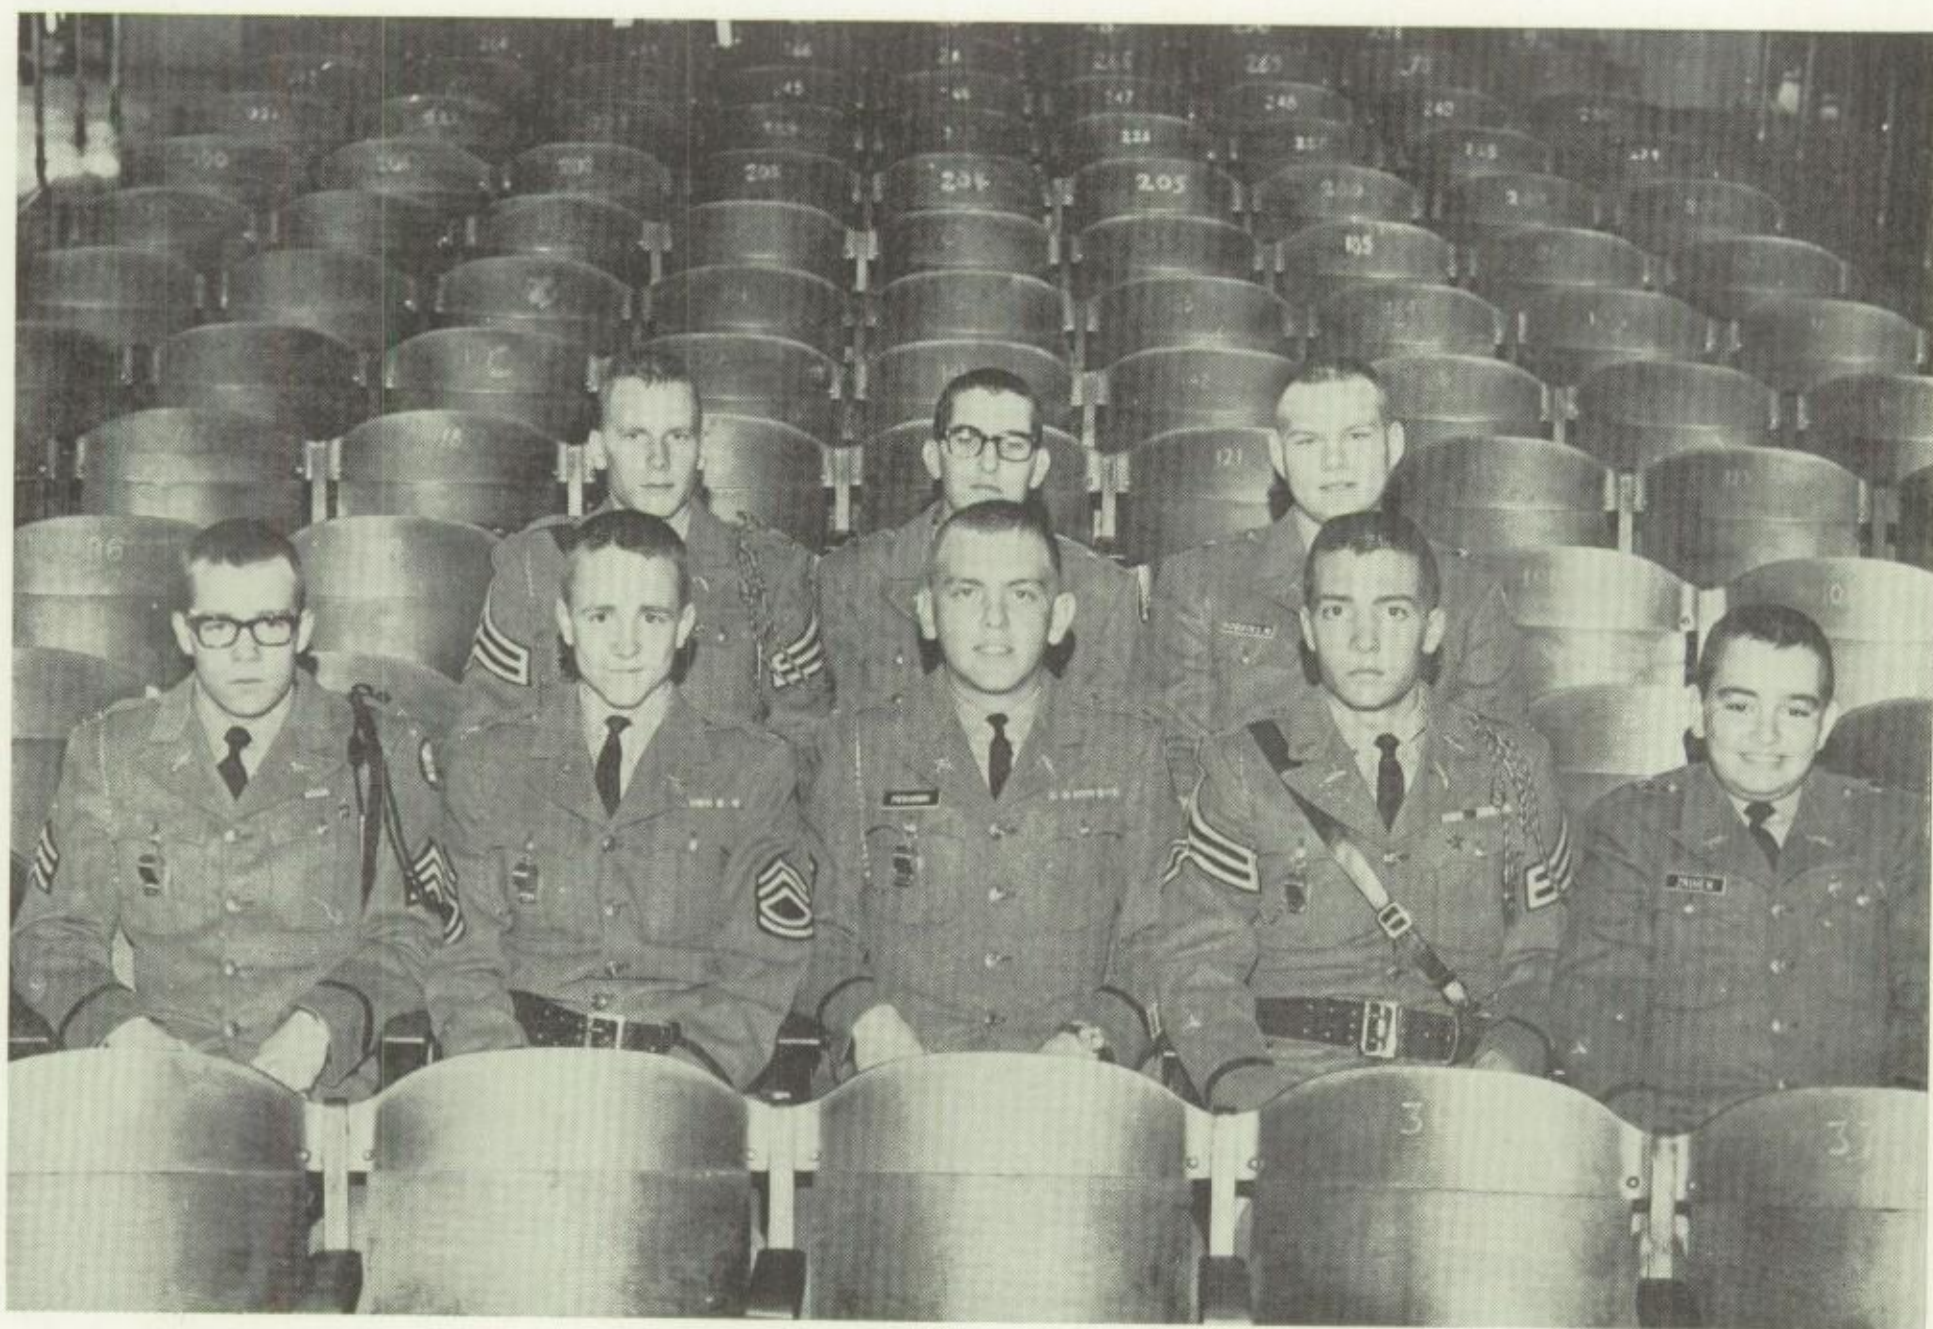

Buddy Sapp, George Piekarski, Hamilton Jones

Founded in 1967, the Spanish club is opened to all cadets who are taking Spanish and who have a strong background in the language. During the club meetings the members make reports on some subject that is related to the Spanish people; and then discuss it.

This year we have five spanish speaking boys who come from Venezuela, Nicaragua, and Columbia. There are twelve boys with the potential for learning the language.

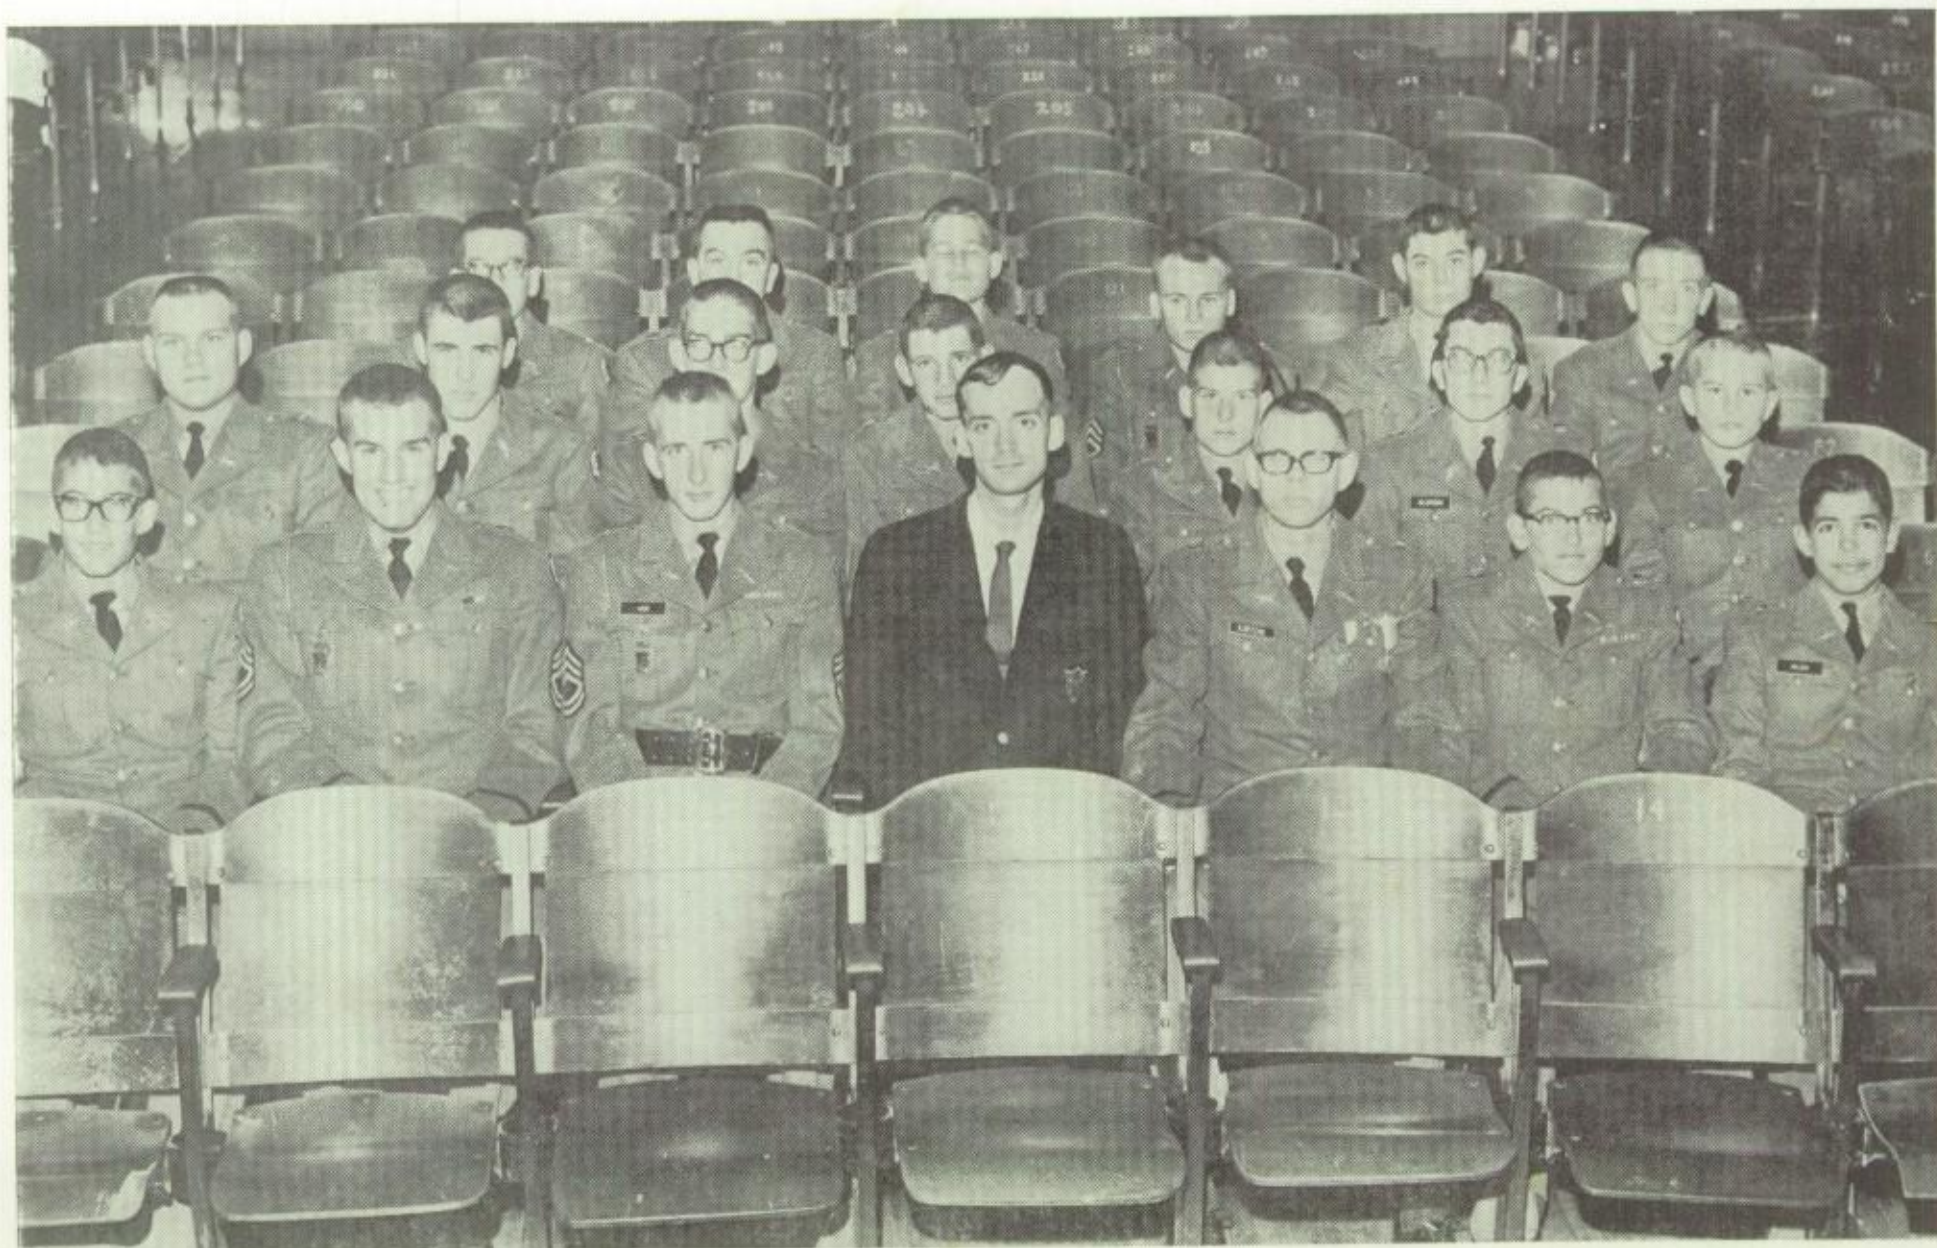

Mr. Perez, our teacher, is also our faculty adviser. At the end of the club year, we go to Danville to have a steak dinner. During this dinner we discuss ways in which we can improve the club for the upcoming year.

The officers of the club this year are the following: President, H. Jones; Vice President, G. Piekarski; Secretary, B. Sapp; and Treasurer, G. Piekarski.

HISTORY—The history of Hargrave's Chess club is short one in comparison with the histories of several other clubs that are open to Hargrave cadets. Last year, 1966-67, was the first year that Hargrave had a club opened to members of the cadet corps who were interested in chess. Before the chess club started, chess playing at Hargrave was unorganized and few people knew many others that played chess.

FUNCTION—The function of the Chess club is to teach cadets how to play chess and to bring cadets that know how to play into competition. This competition helps to broaden a cadet's knowledge and use of tactics. The goal of every member of the club is to rise in rank on the ladder and to try to become one of the top ten members in the club.

PRESENT—Because of the large number of cadets that are in the club it meets in two club periods. From this large number of cadets only the top ten players on the Rooks will meet the top players from other schools in interscholastic competition.

OFFICERS—The officers of the Chess club were elected by the members of the club. They were elected as follows: President, Bruce Belcher; Vice-President, Tommy Ham; Secretary, Guy Kirton; Assistant Secretary, Bill Chaney.

THE CAMDEN RIFLES

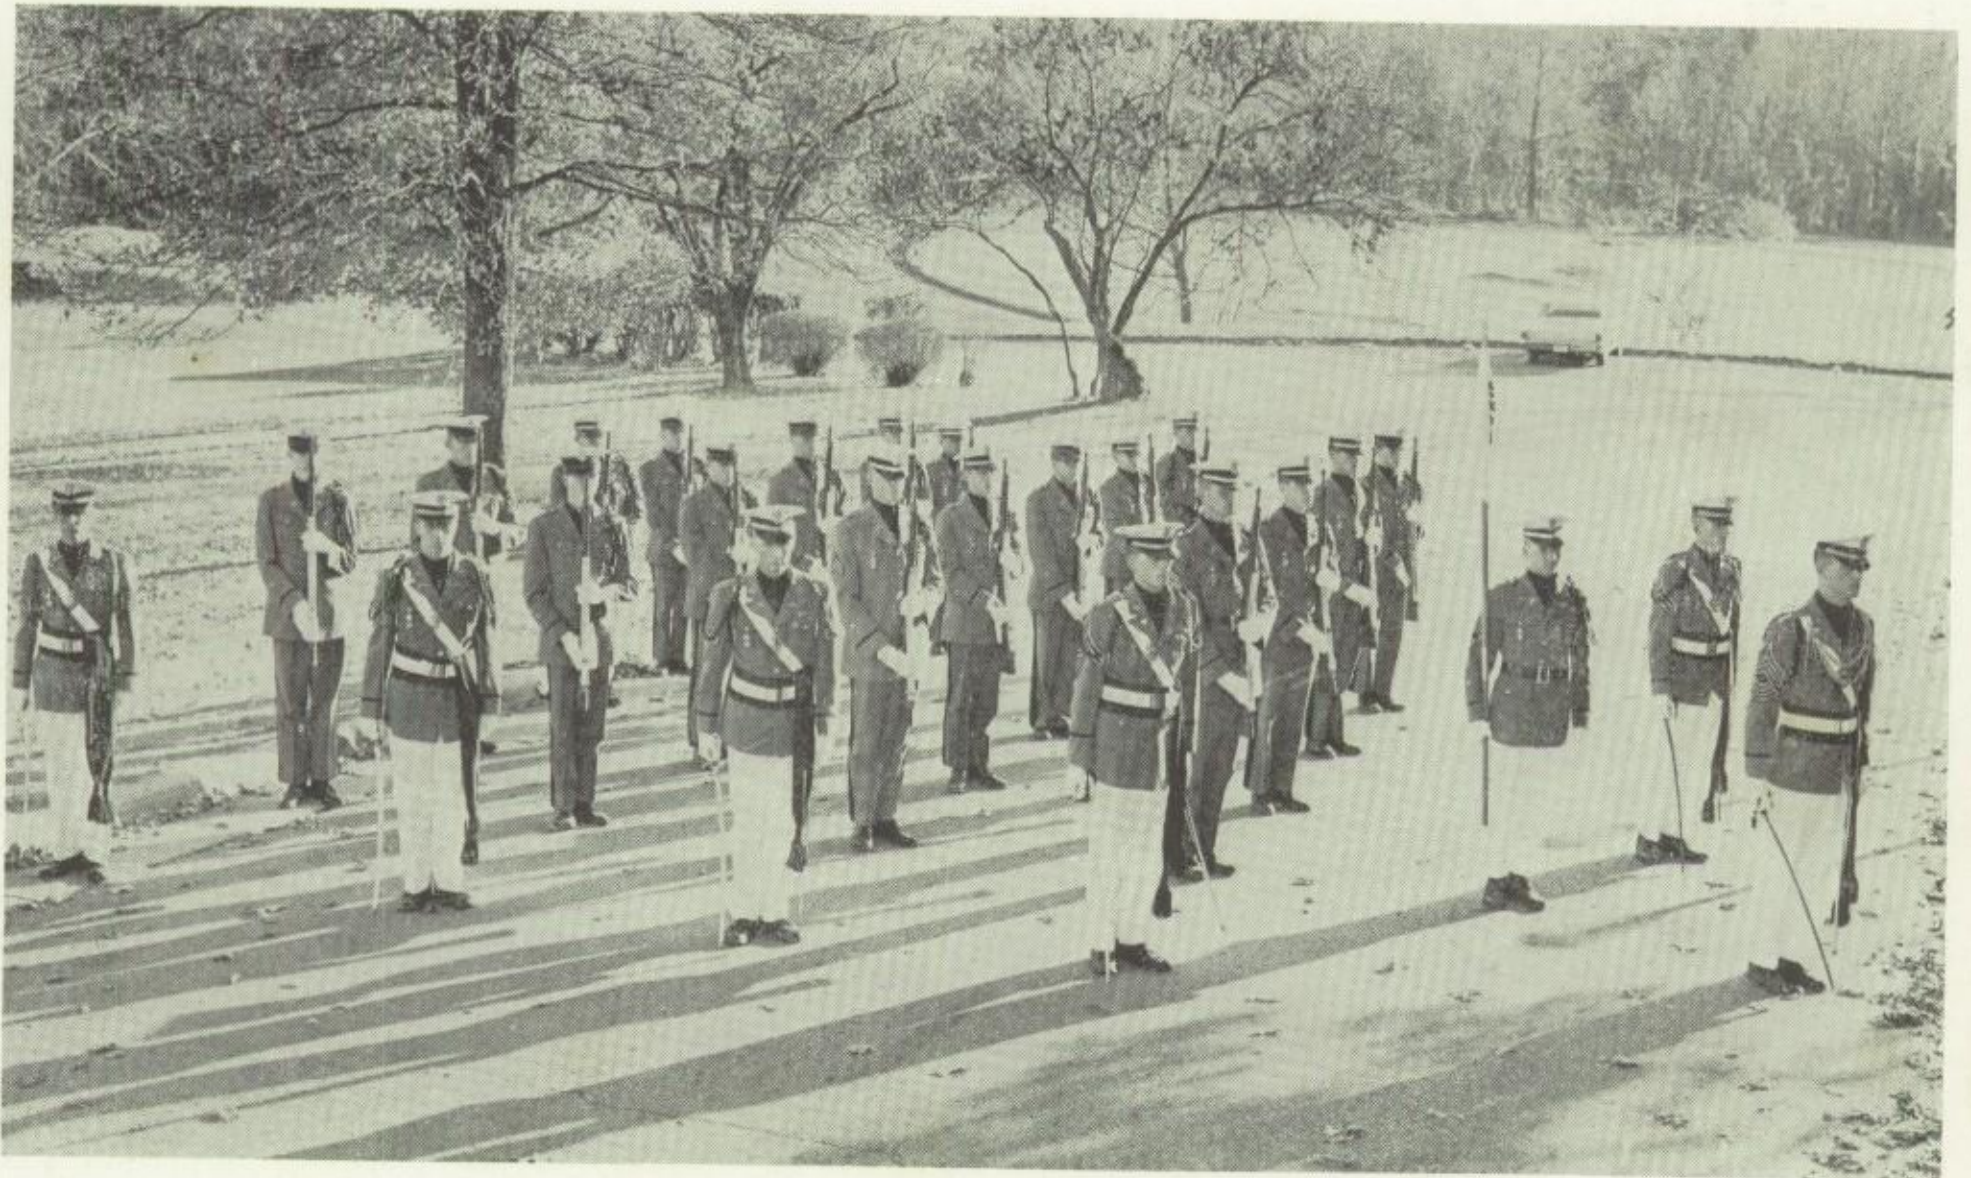

Greg Upchurch, Dewey Loving, Dave Clark, Robert Ballard

The Camden Rifles, named for Colonel A. H. Camden, President Emeritus of Hargrave, is the crack-drill platoon. These cadets practice everyday, as they know the best way to gain the perfection they want is only through daily practice. Their reward comes whenever they travel to another city and participate in a parade.

The Camden Rifles, along with the Hargrave Marching Band, have traveled throughout the states of Virginia and North Carolina. The success of the Drill Team this year has been very popular with the faculty of H.M.A. Also, the Drill Team has performed in the half-time shows during various football games.

Under the leadership and direction of Cadet Captain Dewey Loving, the Drill Team has won many honors and awards.

Bill,

This has been a wonderful year for me and I can only wish you a senior year as gratifying and enjoyable.

You will probably be attending this → event next year - so hold that sabre high!

I wish you the very best of luck with the paper next year - knowing you will do a fine job.

Bill, you are gifted with a flare for writing, with a fine attitude, and a (sometimes!) sound mind. You will go far with your future. See you around this summer.

A friend,

Dear Mr. Eckard:

I enclose the photographs you sent me for judging in connection with the beauty contest for the Hargrave Annual.

In compliance with your request, and after consultation with members of my staff, I am selecting the top three and list them in alphabetical order:

Miss Susan Lemons
Miss Billie Jeanne Satterwhite
Miss Becky Sullivan

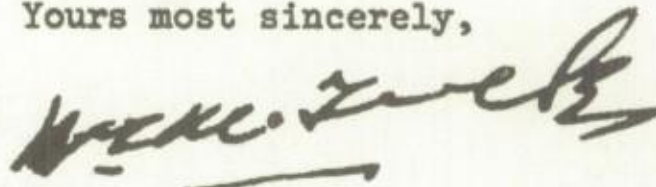

These selections were made with disturbing awareness of the handicap of performing this responsibility by seeing the pictures only.

I was greatly impressed with the beauty of all of these ladies, any one of whom is entitled to selection in a beauty contest.

As you requested, I enclose a photograph of myself.

With kindest regards and all good wishes, I am

Yours most sincerely,

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

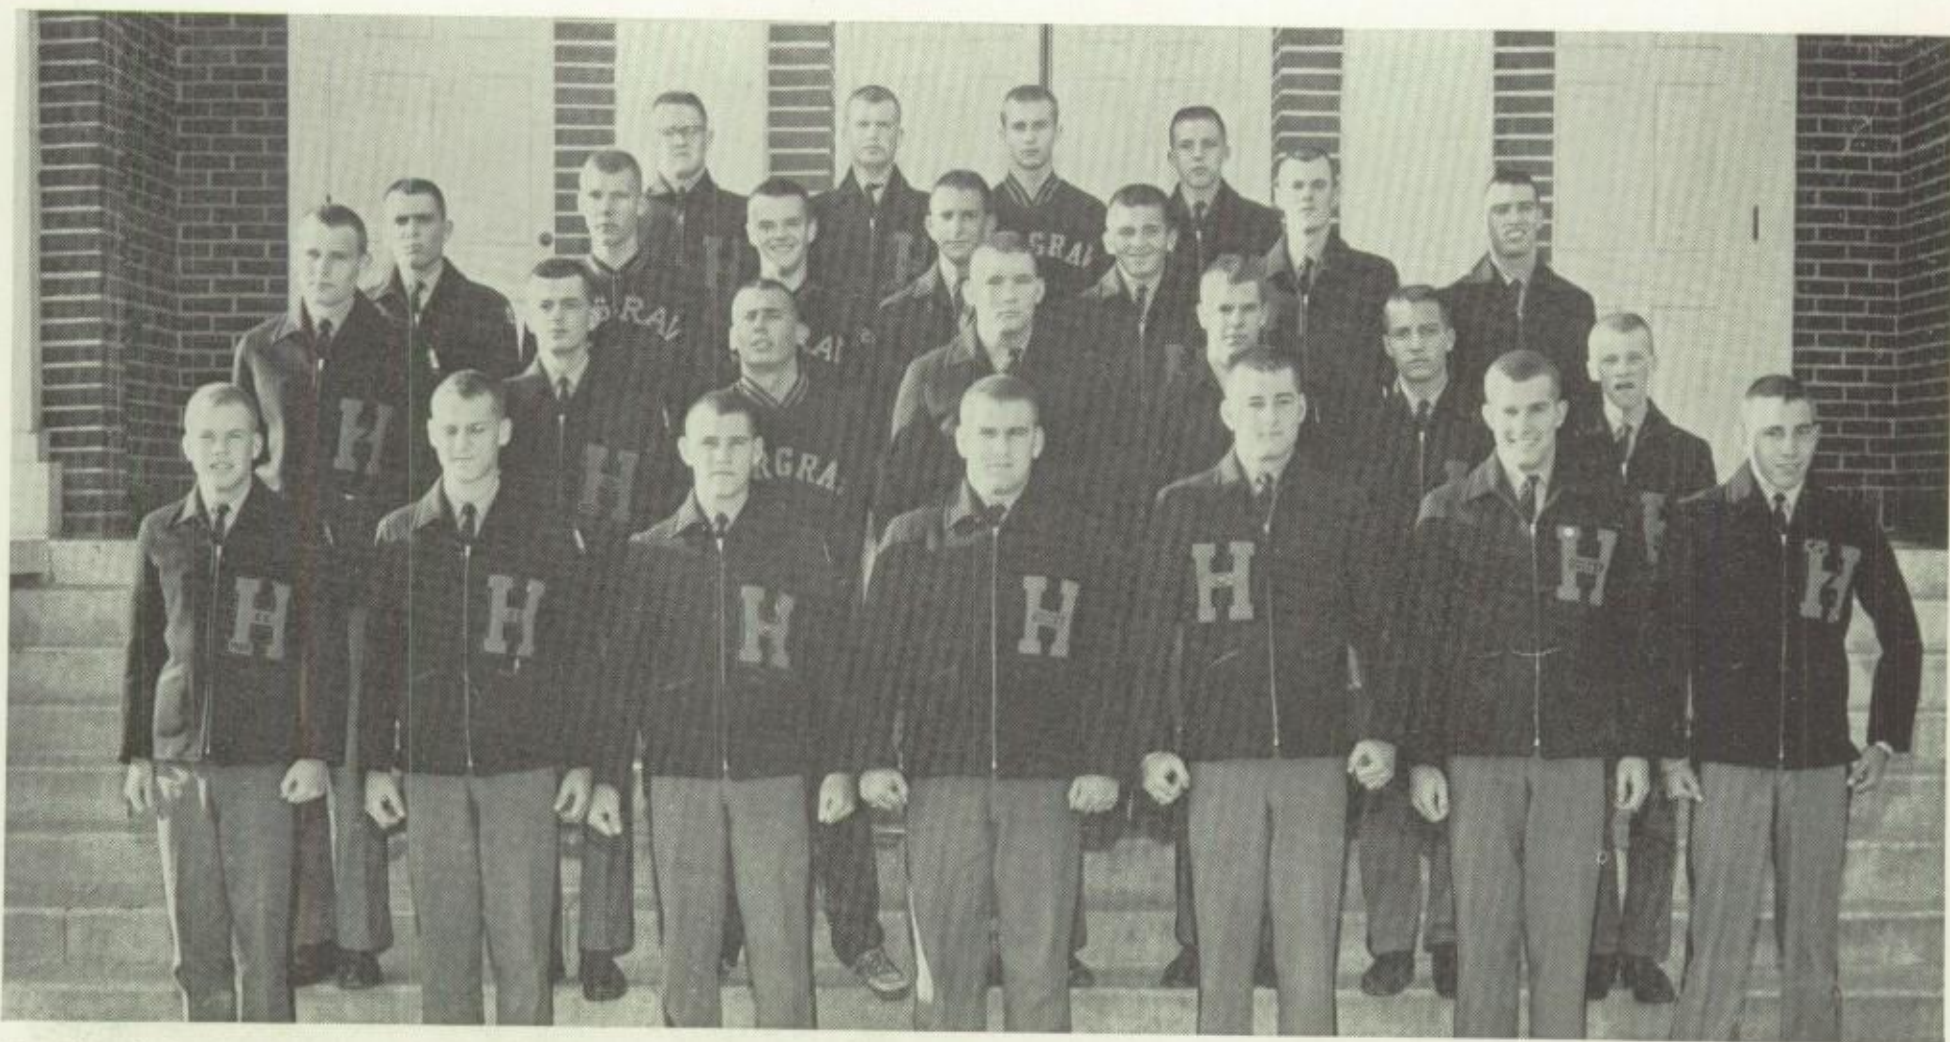

Mr. O. Reid Moseley, a native of Georgia, became Athletic Director at H.M.A. in the summer of 1966. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, where he was named second string All-American in 1946. He played professionally for two years with the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Chicago Bears. He has taught for sixteen years at various schools throughout the South and his football team last year had the best record in Hargrave's history.

The Coach

Serving this year, as he has in past years, Col. O. W. Rogers expertness in coaching has lead this team and teams in past years to victory. His knowledge of baseball surpasses that of anyone's around. Through the guidance of this man, each participating member of the team has not only become a better baseball player, but a better man.

Col. Edward Floyd

Fifty years ago a young man from Tennessee joined the teaching staff of Chatham Training School (now Hargrave). Edward Allen Floyd came to the school in 1918, taught social science to its boys for 45 years, thus setting a record for teaching longer than anyone else in the school's history. But his interest in the school extended far beyond his classroom duties.

Upon his retirement from teaching in 1963, he was elected to the lifetime position of Alumni Secretary. For six years prior to this time he had handled the affairs of the alumni office along with his teaching duties. The alumni hold him in high esteem and many come back to see him to say "hello" and to thank him for the help and encouragement he gave them in their high school years.

Colonel Floyd became a "father" to most of the cadets and a permanent HMA fixture, inextricably bound with the institution's fortune and reputation. His contributions to the school are too numerous to name, say his co-workers. He was of tremendous aid in soliciting students for Hargrave during the depression, and he headed the fund drive that raised $44,000 after the fire of 1950.

The human qualities that endear him to "his boys" are equally as important, Colonel A. H. Camden, President Emeritus, once remarked, adding that his strongest point is his personality and the influence he has on the boys. He became Dean of Boys and was probably closer to the individual cadet than any other faculty member.

The kindly Colonel, known for his playful wit, has seen Hargrave's student body grow from 75 to 570. He has seen every building of the school now standing in construction. He has observed the passing of the paddling stick and seen its replacement by the "Bullring." In 1964 he saw the old Junior School Building, the present Band Barracks, designated Floyd Hall in his honor.

Colonel Floyd was married to a Chatham girl, Margaret Spruce, in 1923. His wife has contributed also to Hargrave. She taught in the Junior School for 16 years and was an official hostess and social director for the school for a number of years.

"A FATHER'S PRAYER"

"Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory.

"Build me a son whose wishes will not take the place of deeds; a son who will know Thee—and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

"Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

"Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master others; one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

"And after all these things are his, add I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, and the meekness of true strength.

"Then I, his father, will dare to whisper, 'I have not lived in vain.' "

By General Douglas MacArthur

THE EPILOGUE.

Another year, another class, another annual has become part of the history, achievements, and memories of Hargrave Military Academy. The task of portraying life at Hargrave is not an easy one; but it has been accomplished, we hope to your satisfaction, in the CADENCE of 1968. The staff was small, the experience lacking, the trials many; but through your cooperation and the dedication of the staff and faculty involved, we have completed this edition. The enjoyment you receive and the memories that are brought back as you turn the pages of this book are the only reward that the staff will, or wants to receive.

In the publication of THE CADENCE, 58 editors and their staffs have lost sleep, health, and peace of mind. This year has been no exception, as the number rises to 59 editors and their staffs.

In essence, four fleeting years have been crammed into one and presented to you, the cadets of Hargrave Military Academy, in the CADENCE of 1968. These years have provided many memorable experiences for the members of the Senior Class, together with the students and faculty members with whom they have been associated. The years will be cherished in the hearts of the graduating class as each man ventures forth into his future life. Stacks of paper, a very small and faithful staff, two completely mutilated typewriters, and hours upon hours of hard work have gone into the completion of this year-book. But for those concerned—both cadets and others—it was worth it.

CHATHAM, VIRGINIA

TELEPHONE HEMLOCK 2-2481

June 1, 1968

Dear Fellow Graduates:

Another year has come to a close. Today, we graduate and leave a part of our life behind us. It's been a life that has been full of disappointments, heartaches, and loneliness on one hand, but, on the other hand, it's been a life of reward, of enjoyment, and of happy times. I seriously doubt that the experiences that each of us have had here will ever be forgotten. It is from these experiences that we have gained wisdom and knowledge of the things around us.

Today, we take our places in the world. Many of us will go on to college, while others take their places in society as working men. Wherever we are or whatever we will be doing, we will all have one thing in common - the way of life that we have gained while being at Hargrave.

Though many of us do not realize it now, Hargrave Military Academy will mean more to us in the years to come. We sometimes neglect to remember that upon leaving this school, we leave part of our hearts behind us.

Today, we leave, and with us we take the characteristics of honesty, integrity, and rectitude. If these characteristics remain with us, we can be sure that we will be men.

Yours respectfully,

Curtis M. Ford, Jr.

don't care.
ake a letter.
This is a page to a very rude, misbehaving, and unexplainable person that I like very, very much. Today, we have been going together or 8 months. I have enjoyed every minute of it & hope you feel the same. All things must end some day & I am leaving you something to remember me by. (My heart) Have a happy week while I am slaving over my endless exams.
I sure hope I pass all of them & can relax this summer. Best of luck in the future & may God bless one of the nicest persons I know. I hate you, I hate you, I hate you!!!
Love ya!!!

Bill,

Well, this year has finally come to an end. Man, am I happy! Thanks for the help in the Musketeer — Best Wish next year. Hope you have a good year + get some rank.

Your friend,

So Bill,

I have enjoyed knowing you this year. I hope everything you want will come true
my God bless you. (you need it)
